Dear Ms. Schick

RE: Cariboo Chilcotin Child Development Centre (CDC) Grant for Assistance
Final Report for 2018 - $1,750

Fund Utilization

The CDC used the Cariboo Regional District's Grant for Assistance of $1,750 to purchase new bodies, wheels and a battery charger for the radio remote cars. The "RC" program has been in operation for more than five years at the CDC and the program's popularity requires that the units been replaced on a regular basis and maintenance is a weekly activity.

The program has proven to a successful strategy to engage hard to reach children and their parents. In addition, the radio remote cars are typically present at community events and the program is a "free" activity for children and youth.

The Success and Benefits of the Project

From the CARF Accreditation Survey Report

- CDC promotes a working environment that encourages creativity. This is evident in many ways, but most notable is the remote car program. The original goal was to find a way to engage children who had difficulties focusing. The solution had many different outcomes, including hand-eye coordination, fine motor control, social skills and social competency, mechanical aptitude, planning, self-esteem building, creativity, self-expression, math and science, responsibility, and financial. The cars have been a successful tool to motivate children who might not choose to be active.
- CDC has also been able to use this project for fundraising. Cars sponsored by local businesses put their advertising stickers on the doors.
- The cars are an incentive and reward by the local school to reward the good work of their students. This has strengthened the relationship between CDC and the school.
- The cars are at community events where local children get to join in and race the vehicles along the course, supporting inclusion and building awareness of the organization in the community.

- The maintenance needs provided an opportunity to engage older children and develop mechanical skills, utilize math and science skills, and put into positions where they can be responsible and understand finances and costs.

Detailed Project Costs

See copies of receipts

- March 16, 2018 - Invoice # 27898 for $1,086.60
- June 05, 2018 – Invoice # 29335 for $370.45
- October 16, 2018 – Invoice # 31880 for $920.78

The CDC was able to leverage the Grant for Assistance from the CRD with other donations and fees. The fleet of radio remote vehicles has grown from 12 to 35.

Recognition

Program supporters including the Cariboo Regional District are recognized at community events. .
