- (4) An appointment under subsection (3) takes effect when the resolution making the appointment is passed, and the alternate director so appointed holds office until the next general local election.
- (5) If the office of an electoral area director becomes vacant through resignation, disqualification or death,
- (a) the alternate director holds the office until that person's successor takes office following the next election for the office, or
 - (b) if the alternate director is unable or unwilling to hold office as director, the board must, by resolution, appoint another person who has the qualifications to be nominated as a director for the electoral area and that person holds the office as provided in paragraph (a).

202 (1) A person elected or appointed to office on a board must make an oath or solemn affirmation of office within the following applicable time limit:

(e) in the case of a person appointed as an alternate director, within 45 days after the effective date of the appointment or the first board meeting or board committee meeting at which the person acts in that capacity, whichever is latest.

Best Practice

While our system requires the appointment of an Alternate Director care and attention must be utilized as ultimately those people will carry the power and authority of an Elected Director, while not being voted in themselves.

If an Alternate Director is to appear at the board or Committee table on your behalf, you should:

1. Ensure that the Board/Committee Chair and Staff are aware that you will not be attending and that your Alternate Director will.
2. Ensure that you review the time, place and conditions of the meeting they are to appear at, covering issues such as:
 - a. Is there a code of conduct for the meeting?
 - b. What are the procedures to be followed?
 - c. Is there a dress code?
 - d. Are meals/accommodations being provided?
3. Ensure that your Alternate Director has access to the Agenda well in advance of the meeting. If needed, involve staff.
4. Go over the agenda with your Alternate Director. Ensure that they understand your positions and wishes on the various agenda items.
5. Ensure that your Alternate Director will not be introducing new items for discussion. It is appropriate, should you decide, to have your Alternate Director provide notice that you wish to discuss an issue upon your return.
6. Ensuring that your Alternate Director will report back to you upon your return so that you are informed and prepared to participate in any future discussions.

Remember, your Alternate Director is appointed by you, and in your absence has the full power and authority to act on behalf of the Elected Area you were elected to represent. Also remember that you must be absent from the meeting room in order for your Alternate to be able to participate and vote at the meeting. You cannot simply vacate your seat and sit in the public gallery.

Alternate Directors should:

1. Be ready to participate
2. Understand your views on the issues before the Board or Committee
3. Report back to you on the discussion and decisions reached

Alternate Directors should NOT:

1. Introduce new items for discussion
2. Try to reargue already decided issues

Please note that there is nothing in the Local Government Act that compels an Alternate Director to act as directed by you. There is no way to legally bind them to a course of action. The Elected Area Director will be held accountable for the actions of the appointed Alternate Director.

Please also remember that should you become ill and not be able to perform your duties that your Alternate Director will have the exact same authority and ability to make decisions as an unelected person that you have as an elected official. Choose wisely.
