SECTION 2: Planning Report

Background:

The applicants are seeking a temporary permit to host mud racing events with the NWMRA (sanctioned event), which is a non-profit association, and to use the property as a seasonal campground for recreational use. They would also like to host other outdoor recreational events or fundraising events for the community and trails for riding.

The proposed area of application is 18 ha (44.47 ac) as shown in Appendix B and is currently zoned Resource/Agricultural (RA 1) in the South Cariboo Area Zoning Bylaw No. 3501, 1999.

Location & Surroundings:

The subject property is located on Bradley Creek Road with Bradley Creek that runs approximately through the middle of the property from North to South as shown in Appendix A. Currently, it is a vacant land with dense tree coverage. The property is mostly surrounded by unsurveyed Crown Land with a logging business to the south of the subject property.

Application History:

The applicants had previously requested to rezone the property to Tourist Commercial (C 2) zone. However, after careful consideration about nuisance concerns from the neighboring properties and water sensitivity on site, CRD decided to issue Temporary Use Permit instead of rezoning the property.

CRD Regulations and Policies:

Temporary Permits can be issued for up to 3 years to allow a land use that would not be permitted under the existing zoning bylaw.

As the subject property lies outside of an Official Community Plan (OCP) area, it requires a bylaw to allow Temporary Use and therefore follows the similar procedure of Zoning bylaw Amendment process.

Local Government Act

Temporary use permits for designated areas and other areas 493

- (1) On application by an owner of land, a local government may issue a temporary use permit as follows:
 - a) by resolution, in relation to land within an area designated under section 492;
 - b) by bylaw, in relation to land within an area outside a municipality, if there is no official community plan in effect for the area.
- (2) A temporary use permit may do one or more of the following:
 - a) allow a use not permitted by a zoning bylaw;
 - b) specify conditions under which the temporary use may be carried on;
 - c) allow and regulate the construction of buildings or structures in respect of the use for which the permit is issued.
- (3) If a local government delegates the power to issue a temporary use permit under this section, the owner of land that is subject to the decision of the delegate is entitled to have the local government reconsider the matter.

Rationale for Recommendations:

As there is a demand for this type of social activity of mud racing events in the area promoting local community engagement and being the proposal is temporary in nature, planning staff supports this application.

However, the area of application is adjacent to highly sensitive Bradley Creek and other irrigation channels with low relief terrain which may pose a risk that the mud bogging area could flood during high flow events. Further, there is a potential risk for release of sediments or contaminated water from the mud bogging area directly into the Bradley Creek and other irrigation channels present on site during high runoff and stream flow periods.

Therefore, it is recommended to develop and implement a sediment containment plan to prevent the release of sediment, debris, refuse, contaminants or other substances into Bradley Creek, tributaries and irrigation channels which may cause a significant adverse impact to the stream channel or aquatic ecosystem of the stream during the operation of the mud bogging events.

Recommendations:

That the application for a bylaw to allow Temporary Use pertaining to District Lot 8333, Lillooet District be approved, subject to the following conditions:

- a. Development and implementation of a sediment containment plan by a registered professional biologist experienced with sediments containment plans and instream works.
- b. The recreational vehicles must be parked only within the proposed area for temporary use permit.
- c. No recreational vehicles can be parked on public streets including # 313 Bradley Creek Road.
- d. No mud racing on # 313 Bradley Creek Road.
- e. No tracking of mud or debris on to # 313 Bradley Creek Road.
- f. No signage within Ministry of Transportation and Infrastructure right-of-way.

Further, the cost of developing and implementing a sediment containment plan by a qualified registered professional be borne by the applicants.

SECTION 3: Referral Comments

Health Authority: - January 3, 2019

See attached.

Ministry of Transportation and Infrastructure: - December 18, 2018

The Ministry of Transportation and Infrastructure has no objection in principle to the proposed temporary permit subject to the following conditions:

- No parking on # 313 Bradley Creek Road
- No mud racing on # 313 Bradley Creek Road
- No tracking of mud or debris on to # 313 Bradley Creek Road
- No signing within Ministry of Transportation and Infrastructure right-of-way

Advisory Planning Commission: January 29, 2019

Supported. See attached.

Ministry of Environment: - May 16, 2019

See comments attached.

CRD Environmental Services Department: - December 13, 2018

CRD Environmental Services interests are unaffected by the Temporary Permit application.

RESPONSE SUMMARY

☐ Approval Recommended for Reasons Outlined Below

☐ Interests Unaffected by Bylaw

☐ Approval Recommended Subject to Conditions Outlined Below

☐ Approval Not Recommended Due to Reasons Outlined Below

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on the Application for a Temporary Permit for a recreational venue and a seasonal campground.

The seasonal campground would require an approved drinking water supply system and a sustainable onsite sewerage treatment system to accommodate the proposed recreation use and campground.

The parcel appears to have a large portion of the land within a wetland. Interior Health has concerns with proposed development within a wetland area.

Prior to any land use change Interior Health would recommend that the owner demonstrate that the proposal is environmentally sound within a wetland area and that the campground can be services in accordance with required legislation.

We recommend that the owner should contact the Environmental Health office in Williams Lake to obtain additional details on drinking water supply systems or review the necessary details on our website:

<https://www.interiorhealth.ca/YourEnvironment/DrinkingWater/Pages/Permits.aspx>

Onsite sewerage systems information can be obtain on our website:

Habitat Section Comments
Lynn Avis, Habitat Biologist, FLNRORD
May 16th, 2019

The following document outlines recommendations from the Habitat section based on a desktop review, data collected during site inspections on August 21st 2018, November 14th 2018, April 18th 2019 and information provided by the landowners who attended the site visit on November 14th 2018.

1. Environmental Values

1.1 Identified Streams

Three unmapped streams on the property were identified during the field visits (Figure 1, blue lines). One of these streams was diverted out of its natural stream channel. This stream currently flows through the property in a south west direction in a constructed channel (Figure 1, orange line) before dissipating into the forest on the east side of the eastern irrigation channel. The natural path of the stream channel is indicated by the purple line (Figure 1). The natural path of the stream subsequently enters the eastern irrigation channel. The three streams enter the irrigation channels at a 90 degree angles.

The property has historically established irrigation channels (Figure 1 yellow lines). The western irrigation channel connects directly to Bradley creek and fish were observed in the irrigation channel during the site visit on August 21st 2018. As the irrigation channels directly connect to Bradley Creek and are fed by natural streams, they meet the definition of a stream under the Water Sustainability Act.

1.2 Fisheries Values

Bradley Creek is a moderately sized stream, with channel widths ranging from 6.4-8.7m. Fish species in Bradley creek include rainbow trout, mountain whitefish, burbot, longnose sucker, largescale sucker, northern pikeminnow, redbside shiner, peamouth chub and prickly sculpin. Several lakes in the watershed, including Hawkins, Beddingfield, Ruth and Greenlee lakes, support sport fisheries. Previous studies in the watershed have identified significant habitat values in large wetlands associated with fish bearing lakes. Beddingfield lake and its associated wetlands, located approximately 2kms downstream from district lot 8333, are an example of these key habitat attributes (Figure 2). These valuable habitat areas should be maintained (Whelen 1999).

1.3 Potential Wetland Habitat

Portions of property within the application area that are currently undeveloped appear to display attributes associated with wetland habitat. Wetlands are defined as a stream under the Water Sustainability Act and therefore any works in or about a wetland constitute works in and about a stream. Any instream works must be authorized under the Water Sustainability Act.

2. Environmental Considerations

The proposed mud bogging area is located in a low lying area adjacent to Bradley creek. The elevation differentiation between Bradley creek and the mud bogging area is minimal, and water was documented overflowing from Bradley creek into the western irrigation channel on April 18th, 2019 (Figure 3).

The release of sediment into fish streams can result in a variety of adverse effects. Lowered light filtration due to suspended sediment decreases primary productivity which translates up the food chain and can decrease productivity for fish. Heightened sediment levels in a stream can increase scour and sediments settling in spawning gravels decreases oxygen infiltration. There is a direct correlation between fine sediment levels and embryo survival and fry emergence. High levels of sediments in fish stream can also result in lethal and sub-lethal effects on juveniles and adults such as gill abrasions and clogging, increased stress, lowered disease resistance, decreased growth, interference with migration and loss of foraging opportunities.

Under Section 46 of the Water Sustainability Act, a person must not introduce or allow the introduction of debris, refuse, contaminants or other substances into a stream which may cause a significant adverse impact to the stream channel or aquatic ecosystem of the stream.

3. Recommendations

The mud bogging area is adjacent to Bradley creek in a low lying area and the irrigation channels surrounding the mud bogging area receive flow from three different streams. The proximity of the mud bogging area to multiple waterbodies and the very low relief terrain poses a risk that the mud bogging area could flood during high flow events. The 90 degree confluence of the streams with the irrigation channels also increases the potential for increased scour and resulting sediment release at these locations.

There is also potential for the release of sediment laden or contaminated water from the mud bogging area directly into Bradley creek, and into irrigation channels which drain into Bradley creek during high runoff and stream flow periods.

It's recommended that a condition of the CRD permitting is the development and implementation of a sediment containment plan by a registered professional biologist experienced with sediment containment plans and instream works that addresses the following:

1. A sediment containment plan that will prevent the release of sediment, debris, refuse, contaminants or other substances into Bradley creek, tributaries and irrigation channels which may cause a significant adverse impact to the stream channel or aquatic ecosystem of the stream during the operation of the mud bogging operations.
2. A sediment containment plan that will prevent, during peak spring water levels (i.e. freshet), the introduction of debris, refuse, contaminants or other substances into into Bradley creek, tributaries and irrigation channels which which may cause a significant adverse impact to the stream channel or aquatic ecosystem from the mud bogging areas, or the adjacent irrigation channels.

Schedule “A” – Temporary Use Permit

CARIBOO REGIONAL DISTRICT

TEMPORARY USE PERMIT NO. 20180051

Permittees: David and Leanna Davis

Address: 2750 Bradley Creek Road

1. This Temporary Use Permit (“TUP”) is issued subject to compliance with all applicable bylaws of the Cariboo Regional District (“CRD”), except as specifically varied or supplemented by this TUP.
2. This TUP shall automatically expire three (3) years from the date of adoption of the bylaw by the Board of Directors of the CRD, which bylaw authorizes the issuance of this TUP.
3. This TUP is limited to the land, premises and structures located at: 2750 Bradley Creek Road, and legally described as District Lot 8333, Lillooet District(the “Land”).
4. In addition to those uses of the Land permitted under CRD’s South Cariboo Area Zoning Bylaw No. 3501, 1999 (the “Zoning Bylaw”), until the expiry or any prior cancellation of this TUP, the following additional use(s) are permitted upon the Land in accordance with the terms and conditions of this TUP:
 - a. The applicants are seeking a temporary permit to host mud racing events with the NWMRA (sanctioned event), which is a non-profit association, and to use the property as a seasonal campground for recreational use. They would also like to host other outdoor recreational events or fundraising events for the community and trails for riding.
5. This TUP, and the uses of the Land permitted under this TUP, are subject to the following:
 - a. Development and implementation of a sediment containment plan by a registered professional biologist experienced with sediments containment plans and instream works.
 - b. The recreational vehicles must be parked only within the proposed area for temporary use permit.
 - c. No recreational vehicles can be parked on public streets including # 313 Bradley Creek Road.
 - d. No mud racing on # 313 Bradley Creek Road.
 - e. No tracking of mud or debris on to # 313 Bradley Creek Road.

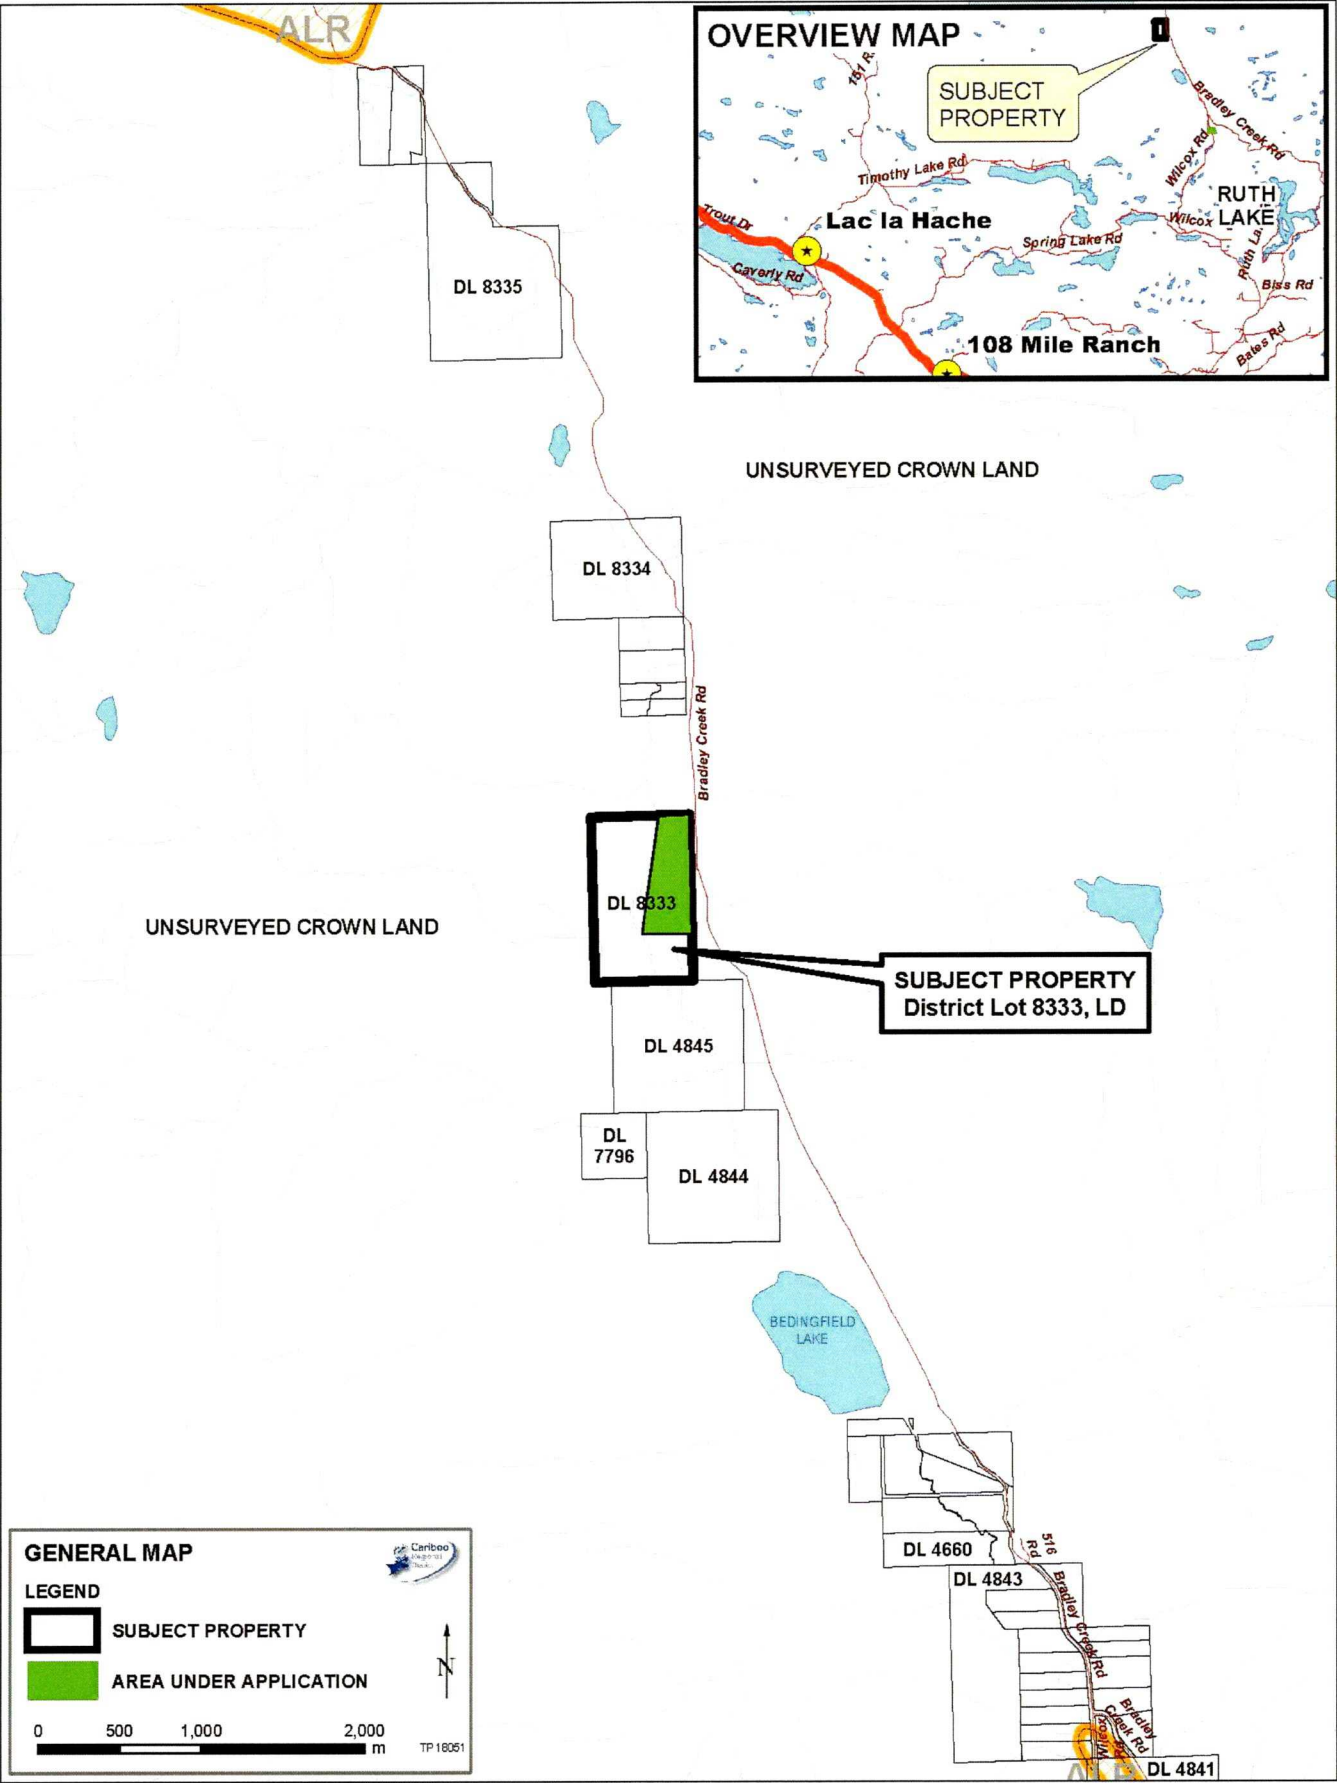

- f. No signage within Ministry of Transportation and Infrastructure right-of-way.
 - g. Further, the cost of developing and implementing a sediment containment plan by a qualified registered professional be borne by the applicants.
 - h. upon TUP expiry, the additional uses listed in clause 4 shall cease and, thereafter, the permitted uses of the Land shall revert and be limited to those allowed by the Zoning Bylaw.
- 6. Should the Permittee fail to abide by the terms and conditions set out in this TUP, upon written notice to the Permittee this TUP shall be canceled by CRD; and thereafter, the permitted uses of the Land shall be limited to those uses permitted under the Zoning Bylaw, if and as amended.
 - 7. The Land shall be used strictly in accordance with the bylaws of the CRD and with the terms, conditions and provisions of this TUP.
 - 8. Any application to amend this TUP shall be considered as a new application.
 - 9. This TUP is not a building permit and does not allow for construction of any buildings, structures or improvements.

We, David Davis and Leanna Davis, owners of the Land, agree to comply with the terms and conditions of this TUP as set out above:

Canada

Dear Sir or Madam,

I write to you today to express the Four Wheel Drive Association of BC's support for David and Leanna Davies in the creation of a motor park that supports and encourages four wheel drive recreation and competition.

Four wheel drive recreation is making a remarkable comeback in BC with an increasing number of events as well as a large increase in the number of participants which have generated significant economic benefits in our communities. Our organization believes that there are opportunities in this market to be capitalized on and this certainly holds true for 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch. The Davies' have considerable ambition and ability to build what will likely be the most significant motor park in BC as well as the standing and respect in the four wheel drive world to effectively organize, promote and hold competitive events successfully and profitably. These events draw hundreds and it is conceivable to draw thousands with their vision.

The Four Wheel Drive Association of BC, non-profit society since 1977, is actively involved in promoting responsible and sustainable four wheel drive recreation in British Columbia as well as advocating for public access to public land. The Association is made up of over 1500 paid members, over social media following of over 50,000, 18 member clubs and hundreds of volunteers who care deeply about adventure and exploration of the beautiful province of British Columbia. As avid backcountry recreationalists, we embrace the Tread Lightly philosophy and are a long standing provincial member of the Outdoor Recreation Council of BC.

We organize and participate in many activities in support of that vision.

The Association maintains partnership agreements and manages 4x4 accessible recreation sites for Recreation Sites and Trails BC, part of the Ministry of Forest Lands and Natural Resource Operations and we also have signed our first management agreement with BC Parks to restore and manage the Cornwall Fire Lookout Tower near Ashcroft, BC. The agreements involve our members and volunteers maintaining recreation sites, including building improvements, table construction/repair, painting, outhouse installation and maintenance, site brushing, trail repair and general garbage pickup and removal.

In closing, please accept this letter as one of complete support from the Association for the creation of a motor park at 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch.

Thank you for your time and consideration,

Kim Reeves

To whom it may concern, this is a letter in support of 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch. I attended last years event with my wife and child for the weekend. We camped for three nights at the ranch. Having been involved with this sport for almost 30 years i have been to many different venues across Canada and the US. I can say without a doubt, that this event was second to none. From the way the crowds behaved , to the way the staff handled them selves. The organizers of this event took the time, when planning this event, to make sure all the little details were thought about. If you had a question or needed something they took care of it promptly. Unfortunatley I had a family emergency back on the coast Sunday Night, and with no cell service that far out I could not be reached, but thanks to the Davies there was an emergency SAT phone on site and I was able to deal with the situation. No words can say thank you enough. I arrived Friday and left Monday mid-morning. When i left, the property had already been cleaned up and and any people left were cleaning up after themselves. On the way out, i thought the road would be littered with debris. But to my surprise, it was spotless. I have been to all the other mud race events in the 100 Mile area over the years, and this event,was by far the best. From the time I rolled in the gates until the time I rolled out the gates. To not let this event continue would be a shame, as well as a loss to the communtiy. It was a family friendly event with lots of great energy and vibe that made you want to come back. PLEASE let this event continue.

Regards, Blake.

To Whom it may concern,

I attended the mud bog event held at 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch in 2018, on the Sunday of the event. I attended with my 85 year old dad and we thoroughly enjoyed our selves. As we entered the event / property it seemed to be well organized. We walked up to the register table and were greeted by very friendly people. There were lots of clear signage saying family event and no alcohol. The grounds were very clean.

The behavior of the spectators were respectable and orderly.

The cleanliness of the road (Wilcox) was fine as I did NOT notice any garbage left behind, there may have been a bit but it was taken care of quickly. I live on Bradley creek rd and did not notice any excessive speeding or any offensive driving or noise.

I think the event was run very well, and believe the owners will be doing anything they can to improve the event in the future.

I also believe the economic impact of the event was VERY positive for our small community. I hope to be able to attend this event in the future.

To whom it may concern

My name is Joel Field, I'm one of the closest neighbors to 100 mile horse power ranch . I live less then 2 k down the road .

My horse Gypsy and I spent the weekend at the mud drags this past summer. I got to know Dave and Leanna during that weekend and since then ... I met a lot of people that weekend, and have nothing but good things to say about the event and all the people involved... they were all very professional, and they have a lot of passion for the sport. It's a very family oriented event , a lot of kids were there and they all had a blast .. I spent much of the weekend giving kids rides on Gypsy ... I truly believe Dave and Leanna and what they are doing at the ranch are a big asset to the community... the mud drags bring in a lot of revenue to local businesses and brings the community together. There was also no litter or garbage laying around after event which really impressed me , and no litter on the road either ... I look forward to Dave and Leanna having mud drags there for many years to come ! If you have any questions you can contact me at 250 644 1337

Sincerely, Joel Field

My husband and I attended the event for the whole weekend. I just need to let everyone know what a fantastic event that was hosted out at the 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch. It is set out in the perfect location, in the beauty of the Cariboo. The one very thing that we found out from Leanna and Dave is the importance of bringing a whole new event to the area, they have lot's of plans to open it up to other tourist attractions such as hiking trails, mountain biking etc. Protecting the property is most important to them, they have not gone into these events with blinders on, they have respect for the property itself, the neighbouring properties, the community itself. I was amazed at the friendly folks from little ones to elderly who came out to attend the event, there was excitement, ewes and awes.. there was laughter, smiles. I myself was happy to visit with people who I had not seen in a long time from surrounding communities to visitors/tourists that where from Australia, Japan and from the USA and all over BC and Alberta to name a few.. the fella from Australia could not say enough about what a fantastic time he was having and that they did not have anything like it in his homeland. Every one was so engaging and polite.. My husband left the event for a short time on Saturday evening.. and was stopped by a police officer. he was asked " what it was like at the event and asked if there was any problems" ... My husband said " it had not even entered his mind that there was any concerns or even any issues, because it was such a well run event. The place was kept cleaned at all times, if anything was dropped on the ground, it was picked up by ground crews who looked after the garbage and recycling. It was kept spotless, we where one of the last to leave and noticed how clean it was, it was a group effort in every aspect with a great team of volunteers. My husband and I loved the event and look forward to attending every other event. we are seniors now , it gets us out and renews our faith in family and community. Just a brief note about the property owners in the surrounding area that may be opposed to this event...(and we hope that we will be able to call ourselves one day a positive neighbour) it is 1 weekend and brings so much money into the community of Forest Grove, 100 Mile etc.. Please keep an open mind come out and enjoy such a fantastic event hosted by Dave and Leanna Davies.. We will be out there again and would love to follow events..

I attended the 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch Mud Races on July 14/15, 2018. It takes a lot to put on one of these races, the amount of work and not to mention the number of volunteers to make it run smoothly. I was one of the many volunteers that helped out that weekend. I'm also a volunteer for all the NWMRA events that I can attend. For this particular event it was amazing the extreme amount of work that had to be done in a very short amount of time to even make it possible. For a new race at a new location it went very well. Like all things, there is always room for improvements.

Dave and Leanna are great people who want to provide a fun, safe, and family friendly event for everyone near and far to enjoy. For myself, I had a great weekend. From what I saw everyone in attendance was well behaved. They had a team of people running security and they did an amazing job considering the amount of people in attendance. Everyone who worked at the gate checked any spectators' coolers that came in to make sure there wasn't any alcoholic beverages. If there was they were asked to take it back to their vehicles. The same went for anyone in the crowd that may have been caught drinking.

There were a lot of concerns about the amount of traffic and speeding on the road. The speed limit is 80kph once you are on the FSR leading to the ranch. It seemed to me that the racers and tourists were blamed for speeding, but being a local that has driven on Wilcox road enough times, locals aren't so innocent either. I know most of the racers who are hauling their trucks on trailers behind them have way too much money invested in them to be flying at high speeds on the bumpy dirt road. On my way out to the ranch on Friday night, I was following two trucks hauling trailers and they pulled over to let me go because they were taking their time.

As for the stop sign by the Forest Grove store, almost nobody stops for it. There were concerns about the road not being able to withstand the high amount of traffic, but it wasn't much different than when the logging trucks are hauling all day none stop. There was almost no garbage on the sides of the road when I headed out. The property itself was very clean, almost nothing left behind. There was also a huge garbage bin onsite for the weekend. There were bins set-up in various places for cigarette butts, which were very well used. As for the parking and camping, there is plans in the works so that spectators don't have to park along the roadside.

It's a great thing for a small town, it brings in so much business, whether it's the grocery stores, the gas stations, or the part stores. It's a great thing and gives something for people to do for one weekend, possibly two. Most people showed up either Friday night or through the morning Saturday. Just about everyone left the Sunday and the others on Monday.

Sincerely,
Alyssa Bleeker

To whom it may concern;

I thank you for your time, my name is Robert Gough, a resident of Langley BC, as well as a member of The North West Mud Racing Association (NWMRA), The 100mile Horsepower Ranch build crew, volunteer, security detail, grounds crew. I would like to write you with regards to the event and my experience at the Bradley creek road located 100Mile Horsepower Ranch.

As someone who knows the Davies family, the vision, the ambition to be a leading role model, and their care for community and wildlife... I Believe there is a great future at hand. They are a family packing the utmost respect of the 4x4 community with recognized vehicles and rigs for many years past. From the likes of Dirt Church Lowermainland to the Four Wheel Drive Association of British Columbia they are a staple name and respected greatly.

When we had the call that we were going to take this on I was fully on board as a volunteer and potential sponsor. There were many hours of work put in by the crew to ensure the property wasn't damaged further by water and flooding. Driveways and property manipulation were based on great volumes of due diligence research by numerous volunteers. Attempts were made to avoid riparian zones and sensitive areas while building the entire venue.

As a volunteer I aided in the security and among other duties parking at road as well as grounds crew, keeping garbage and recycling collected throughout the event. The event went wonderfully compared to expectations of a smaller crowd. We handled the event safely and had well more than enough extra volunteers to pick up slack if needed.

I saw a great enthusiastic crowd full of families enjoying a new event. The environment was full of children, friends, family, and people new to the sport and went off with no major incidents. We had a great weekend of racing in a new venue attempting to become a staple in the region and hope we have the ability to do so in the future.

As security detail we were responsible for onsite alcohol control among others. I have to say this event was very tame, in my weekend there I believe I had to ask 2 separate people to dump drinks and they gladly complied and apologized. I had heard a rumor after the event that RCMP had been called to investigate underage drinking. In my interactions with the attending officers this complaint was never brought to my attention as part of the security detail and no underage drinking was discovered. Our crew was very diligent in alcohol control.

Whilst parking spectator vehicles the crowd was very understanding and very orderly. The street was kept clean and tidy by spectators and our crew. Before, during, and after the event volunteers travelled the road to collect any discarded trash, there was minimal collected as people were very respectful. On our trip out of the area when the event was complete and the venue was shut down, I was the final vehicle of our convoy. I scoured the road on our trip out for any evidence of the event, to clean up any mess found, and leave the area tidy in respect to the residents of Bradley creek road and forest grove. It is my opinion that everything was left as tidy or better than when the event began.

In my experience as a redseal plumber, BC Blue seal well pump Installer and water treatment specialist, a professional in BC, a racer, volunteer, and 4x4 enthusiast this event was extremely well handled, planned and executed for a rookie team attempting to build a lasting legacy in British Columbia. I am sure there are things, that when brought to our attention, can be upgraded, mitigated, or planned differently to accommodate everyone involved in the 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch and surrounding communities.

We look forward to providing years of entertainment and economic growth for the region and thank you all greatly for your time, patience, and willingness to work together to build a future here.

The Davies, the 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch, our volunteers, racers, and 4x4 community along with myself and my family thank you greatly for your time and appreciate your considerations for this project.

Thank You

So much thanks for hosting our family orientated 4x4 club at your event this past year, I believe our club had 5 4x4's this year running in multiple classes, a bunch of kids and parents. From our arrival Friday night meeting many other enthusiasts and tech officials to the Sunday evening wrap up everything went great, people were professional, kids were safe and having loads of fun. This is an excellent way of keeping the sport safe and a location that is purposed for off-road enjoyment without worrying about trespass.

I know our club will have more attendance at the next event, as the event was taking place there was much talk about the "next one" before the end of the first day!

As a racer and race fan of multiple sports I like to spend money at and support local business in the area. Maybe we could see more promotions of these? And what they offer?

The amount of people that showed up was probably more than expectation, which definitely shows the need for your facility, and with that there will be the support from our club and others to make this all happen.

Thank you very much, and let us know how we can help, Rob W and the Quesnel 4x4 Club.

To whom this concerns;

The 100 mile House mud drags have been very special to my family. Over many years our family has gone to these races, looking forward to them every year. My father was able to drive for them many years ago, which was an amazing experience.

Last year's mud drags were more special for our family, as a memorial bit was done for my father whom passed. It was really amazing to see everyone who knew my father get together there. It was well put together the whole event. Clean. Respectful for all ages. I do hope they continue the races every year to continue as it is special to our family.

Sincerely Kelsey Loft

To whom it may concern,

My name is Krista Kieneker and I attended the racing event at 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch in July 2018. I attended with my 4 year old son and husband. We rented a RV travel trailer from Meridian RV in 100 Mile House for the weekend. When we picked up the RV, we spoke with staff and told them where we were spending the weekend. One of the staff members was so excited to hear the mud races were returning that he attended on the Sunday with his family.

After picking up our RV we bought groceries from Save On Foods in 100 Mile and fueled up our jerry cans and truck for the weekend.

Upon arriving at 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch we setup our camping spot directly in front of the spectator area next to the racing lanes. I wanted to be setup where I could watch the races from our campsite as I had my son and a few other children to keep an eye on while their parents raced.

We arrived on July 11th, as we had offered to volunteer and help setup things. I was responsible for going and putting up signs to help guide attendees to the venue safely. I put up signs from the highway all the way to the venue. At the end of the weekend I went to collect and clean up all the signs so they could get reused in the future. I was disappointed to find that a few signs had been taken down and stolen.

Saturday morning as spectators started to arrive, families began setting up chairs and a few tents for shade in front of my campsite. The excitement and fun everyone was looking forward to was very evident. Many spectators spent the entire day onsite, taking in all the racing, children getting posters signed by drivers and pictures taken with trucks. From where I was watching I never witnessed anyone misbehaving, drinking or acting intoxicated. I even watched a pair of police officers walk through the spectator area, speaking to many attendees. The entire mood was very positive and everyone was friendly and respectful.

I must say I was very impressed with event staff and security, they made their rounds to make sure everything was running smoothly. I will be returning for future events with my son and maybe one day he'll even race in the junior class.

My husband returned the RV on Monday morning on his own and then picked myself and my son up from 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch. I was so impressed at how tidy the property was at the end of the weekend. As we made our way back towards town I did not notice any litter on the road.

I hope to see this event continue, I think it has an amazing family friendly atmosphere that will create lasting memories for so many people. Hobbies and activities like these give youth something to look forward to, enjoy and strive to be apart of. The community benefits from the increased tourists who spend money in town.

Thanks

Thank you for taking a moment to read my letter. I'm writing to you in regards to 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch and the event they had July 2018. I traveled from Surrey to 100 Mile Friday evening. I stopped at the Save On and purchased groceries and ice for the weekend.

I attended with my 4 year old daughter and camped out the entire weekend. She had a blast watching all the trucks race and meeting a ton of other kids. I was very pleased at how well organized and professional the event was. In the evenings I wasn't sure what to expect and was worried about how noisy people would be as I have a tent trailer. But everyone was so well behaved and respectful of others. I contributed a small box of food donations to the 100 Mile Food bank as I had seen that they were collecting donations over the weekend. Was a neat way to give back to the community. My daughter was ecstatic about receiving a poster with a bunch of the trucks on it to take home and put up in her bedroom. It was a great family-oriented event that I will be highly recommending to all my friends with kids. The junior racers were really fun to watch and I think it's a great way to get the kids involved in the sport.

I had to leave around 1:30pm Sunday as I had to get back home before it got to late. An event staff member with a bright orange staff shirt was walking the road just outside the event where all the cars were parked. He had what appeared to be a grocery bag in his hand and I would assume he was checking for litter. As I drove out I was very pleased to see the road was very clean even as I continued down towards Forest Grove.

We are looking forward to future events at 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch. It would be a shame not to see them continue.

Sincerely

Re: 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch July 2018 Event

To whom it may concern;

My family and I really enjoyed our time at the 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch during the 2018 season. My spouse, our dog and I came up from the Fraser Valley with a group of family and friends totalling about 20 adults, children and dogs to watch the races and enjoy the atmosphere that they provide.

We had a blast while there, we were camped in the back in quite a family friendly area that was fenced off with a dyke with a small creek. We felt very safe and will continue to go and potentially volunteer in the future! At no time were we made to feel unsafe by the size or speed of vehicles and the volunteers did an amazing job at keeping a close eye on everything.

Most of the people that I encountered over the weekend - current or new friend - are very 'camping' oriented folk and cleaned up not only after themselves but after each other. "Pack in what you pack out" is a pretty normal term among any large private outdoor activity I've been involved in and this one is no exception. Same goes for the surrounding area and road out, all was tidy.

We enjoyed a beautiful lake that is not far from the property where the event was held and met some nice locals there and in town while shopping for groceries and filling up our trucks. I haven't been to 100 Mile much as an adult and will definitely come back it's very charming.

We left after the last races and didn't make it home until well after midnight tired and happy and wanting to do it again.

Sincerely,

Tai Van Patter

To Whom it may concern,

I am in full support of the Davies and their venture with 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch. Not only did I participate in the event held on July 14 & 15, 2018. I also helped them with preparation of the property, to be able to put on this event.

As competitor this was one of the safest, well equipped and well planned tracks I've have raced at in the past four years. They had safety measures for racers, and spectators in place along with environmental safety precautions prepared just in case. None of the safety equipment was needed thankfully. I was beyond proud of the work and commitment the Davies put into holding this event for the NWMRA.

The atmosphere from spectators was nothing shy of excitement. Many families attend to watch, there was no noticeable rowdiness, or unnecessary behaviour from racers nor spectators. Everyone was being very respectful, cleaning up after themselves, using the facilities provided. I didn't witness any drinking during racing hours, as that is not permitted by the NWMRA. The NWMRA races have always been family oriented events, they have prizes and posters for the kids and encourage us as the racers to sign the posters for the kids as the walk through checking out all our trucks. The neighbour who brought his horse and gave the kids rides was a highlight for many. Displaying a great example of animal and mechanical unity, the comfort level of that horse was great to see. And the additional fact that the clean and cover up of the pits on Monday after the races was done so well that not only this specific horse but others were able to graze there with no issues.

My wife and 5 year old son arrived separately from myself due prior obligations for them. Upon my arrival on Wednesday July 11, and exit Tuesday July 17, 2018 the road was quiet no one causing issues nor did I see any garbage. This goes for the same of my trip in the begging of May 2018. I came across a few vehicles on Bradley Creek Road, both trips always respecting rules of the road. I myself live on a very rural half unpaved road so it's easy for myself to understand how locals my be uneasy about the increase of traffic. I think if they have any questions or concerns they could find talking to the Davies about them, they'd get answers or them being looked into and be respectfully received.

I really hope you give the Davies and 100 Mile Horespower Ranch the opportunity to show that their events can be a wonderful attraction for the Cariboo community.

Thank you for your consideration,

Alex Humphrey

We attended the NWMRA mud drags in 100 Mile this year to support our friends racing and support the Davies dream Horse Power Ranch property plans. Four adults travelled from Mission. We were among the first few groups of people to arrive and found the road conditions in and out of the property to be fairly decent. I recall commenting that compared to similar roads I'd been on there was very little garbage to be seen. The community appears to be doing a great job keeping it clean. On the way out late Sunday afternoon I did not see any new garbage on the road, in fact it appeared to be cleaner than Friday morning!

Upon arrival I was very impressed with how well laid out the area was, as per usual with the NWMRA. There was people to check in racers, campers, spectators etc. As always, waivers need to be signed and safety is #1. I am always so impressed with how well run the mud drags are. I attend these events as a volunteer event photographer and very much appreciate the hard work from start to finish put in by all volunteers and property owners.

I enjoy attending the mud drags for many reasons, I think my favourite (other than the great photo ops!) being the strong family atmosphere felt at races. It's a true joy to see so many people come together to share what they love. The comradery is incredible! It's so amazing to watch everyone work together to get someone back on the track, one person running for a tool box, another offering parts or knowledge. True sportsmanship is prevalent.

I also really enjoy seeing so many families with children in awe of all the racers and trucks. It's a fantastic family event for kids of all ages. I've seen tiny babies wearing hearing protection, to an 80+ year old grandma there to cheer on the grandkids! Everyone always seems to have a very fun time.

I very much enjoyed my weekend at Horsepower Ranch and am looking forward to many more annual there mud drag weekends in the future. A huge thank you to the Davies and the NWMRA for sharing their passion with us all. I hope to be able to one day bring my future children to have as much fun as I always do!

To whom it may concern,

I attended the event at 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch in 2018. I've been apart of the Off-road racing community for a long time, I build and fix trucks for several racers. I am also a competitor myself.

I was impressed at how well this event was setup, I've been to many different events around BC. The site was setup well, a lot of thought was obviously put into it all. Everything ran very smoothly and I felt like safety was a big priority to the event staff. I noticed several staff wearing Orange Security shirts situated around the site really thoroughly keeping an eye on everything.

The vibe was so positive and everyone was extremely friendly. There were a lot of kids at the event with their families, running around playing or watching. Everything was very well cared for to, the place was kept so clean. I've been to events where there isn't much care put into setting of garbage cans and the place ends up being a mess but the crew at 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch did an exceptional job keeping everything tidy. There was garbage cans everywhere and plenty of outhouses to.

The event could have so much economic benefits to the 100 Mile area. I traveled up with a large group of friends with trucks and trailers from Langley and Abbotsford area. Our group estimates we spent at least $1000 filling up our trucks and Jerry cans with fuel and getting groceries in 100 Mile. I can only image how much money was spent that weekend in the community, but I'm sure many other attendees did the same as us.

I'd also like to mention that when our group left Monday morning, we left in a big convo. The road was very dusty so we traveled a bit on the slower side and spaced apart so we wouldn't dust each other out. Other then the dust and a few potholes the road out was in good shape. It's probably one of the widest and nicest logging roads I've traveled. I did not notice any trash or anything that may have fallen off someone's trailer along the road. I feel that most of the attendees understood the work and passion that went into this event and as a result were responsible and respectful of the area.

I hope to see events continue at 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch, they have some incredible ideas and this could evolve into so much more over time I feel.

Thank you

To Whom it may Concern,

In regards to 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch application for a 3 year temporary permit to run their events. I really hope you give them a fair and equal opportunity to show what these type of events can bring to not only the 100 Mile community, but the Cariboo region as a whole.

I am not sure if you aware that the event hosted by non profit society the NWMRA, has been held in the 100 Mile area for many years prior to the Davies bringing it back, after a three year hiatus. Along with that they have hosted many other races over the years across the Cariboo region. There are many of these race trucks just sitting and waiting for these events to come back to the Cariboo. Along with their family and friends who love cheering on and watching their local girls and guys race.

I currently manage the social media for the NWMRA and at the time of the July 2018 event was one of the main admins on the page as well. The reception from this event being back, in not only the 100 Mile area, but the Cariboo region was beyond amazing. Locals were ecstatic to have not only this event back but with new added on specialty events as well. There were visitors from ALL over BC and into Alberta coming to the Cariboo just for this specific event! I arrived at the event with my 5 year old son Friday July 13 around 6 pm. Upon our arrival there was a gate set up having people signing waivers and given a event etiquette sheet of what was to be expected of them. From what I saw everyone not only respected that but followed it as well. On the Saturday and Sunday, there were many families that arrived to watch the event, some came both days some only one. But the reception was great, smiles, excitement, cheering no obnoxious or vulgar behaviour. I am a volunteer for the NWMRA that held a very central post during the event, and I understand that when the RCMP arrived late Saturday afternoon just before 4pm, due to a call about under age or minors being intoxicated. I was quiet shocked, I radio to other key members of the NWMRA and the Davies that they were here and would like their presents to do a walk through. They left happy and not finding any intoxication issues. One thing I'd like to make really clear the NWMRA does not serve, nor does it provide alcohol, and we also don't allow the food services being brought on site to serve or provide alcohol either. Spectators are told upon arrival that alcohol is not allowed and the people who camp at race sites for the weekend during events, they are fully aware there's not drinking during race hours. I feel like that complaint was an unfair acquisition made by someone who hadn't even attended the event.

The safety precautions taken at 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch, were thee best we've seen at any of these type of events. The planning that went into safety for not only the racers but as well as the spectators showed. From having an ambulance on site with certified first aid and recovery staff. To the safety set backs of where spectators can sit and watch the event. To the environmental precautions taken to ensure nothing from the mud pits would be able to make to the creek running through the property, to the designated camping and parking areas. And by the off chance something had happened with a vehicle they had proper spill kits in place, ready to go if needed. Thankfully neither medical nor environmental safety measures needed to take action. They also informed people who were camping that they'd only allow propane fire pits, absolutely no campfires, even though at the time campfires were allowed by the Cariboo Fire District. The amount of effort the Davies put into setting and taking these precautions, I strongly feel that it not only shows their respect for the land and the community, but their willingness to take time to do research and making the best effort possible to keeping everyone happy. Now unfortunately not everyone will always be happy it's a fact of life, and motorsports are not something that everyone is into. But I personally feel this event had made a very minimal environmental impact.

The one main impact this event did bring was on the people who attended and expressed their enjoyment of being able to watch this event. There were many families who were so happy to be able to have this smaller scale Monster Truck style event local to them. If they were to go to Vancouver they'd have to spend thousands of dollars for a couple hours of show. They have to spend even more money to be able to see the trucks up close and personal as well as getting photos or drivers to sign posters. Here they got to experience that all in their own backyard as the saying goes. And on top of that, they got to see kids like them racing as well!! The NWMRA has a class called Junior Racers it's for children under the age of thirteen the youngest racer is 5 years old so far. And with doing this class for the past two years it has grown each year. Kids along with parents are extremely interested to see other kids doing this kind of stuff, getting outside, getting dirty, having a blast, being part of a full circle family event. This type of event is definitely a family event, at any given time during the event I wasn't worried about what my own child was seeing. I am sure there were some spectators who went in and out to their vehicles to drink, but that is out of the events control. Look at any other type of sporting event that's marketed as family oriented event, they actually sell booze at the areas/events or have beer gardens. So for what was maybe a handful of some possibly drunk people. That some spectators may have witnessed, it was no where near the level you'd see at a hockey, baseball, basketball or football game. Plus there's lots of beer league teams who use public parks to play their sports. So let's not let the actions of a few ruin a wonderful experience for the many. Everything has growing pains, but for the Davies and 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch this was their first ever attempt at doing this. In which I'd say they were pretty successful. So much to the point that one of the blown alcohol race trucks made an unofficial world record pass during this event. This team is excited to finally have a fully set up and safely laid out track that they can push for the world record passes. They are even willing to what needs to be done to help make it an official world record, however they need time and reassurance that 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch will be able to run their events. There's a lot of people planning and organizing that goes into these type of records and officials have to be present as well. Along with doing that the team needs to be able to ensure the track is built to the most optimal conditions like it was in July 2018, all along while making sure their truck is on optimal running order. Once people who hadn't even attend the event heard about these unofficial passes, they were asking for information about the 2019 event. The draw that not only this event had but the Davies themselves bring, has the potential to making 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch a vacation destination.

When I left the property on Tuesday July 17 2018, driving out I didn't see any garbage or refuge left behind on the property nor on the roadsides. I actually happen to have a short video clip showing the road on our way out, that I have sent a copy of to the Davies.

Thank you for taking the time to read my letter of support for the Davies, and 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch. I can only hope that they are given the chance to show the community and neighbors the potential opportunities these events can bring to them and local businesses. I know the 100 Mile food bank was happy to have this event back as well. We loaded up the back hatch of my SUV with donations collected during the event, with each event the food bank will prosper even more.

Thank you,
Mary Jo Humphrey

To Whom it may concern,

In early 2018 I learned that my good friends Dave and Leanna Davies purchased property in the Forest Grove/100 Mile House area. They talked very highly of the area, and with excitement, about setting up their new property to be able to host off road racing events. I too was very excited about this, as I am an active off road motorsports enthusiast, and immediately volunteered my time and resources to help them bring their new dream to a reality, as I have had some experience with organizing a similar event in Hope, BC with Hope Motorsports Group. After the snow melted and we were able to gain access to the property off of Bradley Creek Rd. we began to work long and hard to prep the property for the coming event in July 2018 as a scheduled North West Mud Racing Association (NWMRA) sanctioned race. I made many trips back and forth from Mission, where I live, to Forest Grove with gear and supplies for 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch. Every trip up I would stop in 100 Mile House to fuel up, grab groceries for the weekend, and usually grab dinner that day before heading out to the Ranch. All of the people I met and dealt with at the gas station, grocery store, or restaurants were all very polite and excited to hear that Mud Races were coming back to the Caribou area.

On the weekend of July 13-15, 2018 I loaded up my two daughters, my dog, the camper, and my trailer with my daughters off road dune buggies. My oldest daughter Kiera, who had just turned 10 at the time, was very excited for another weekend of racing as she is a racer herself. She takes part in the Junior Dragster class that the NWMRA has in place at all of their events. My youngest daughter Avery was very excited as well (5 years old at the time) as this was going to be her very first racing event that she raced in, and she did amazing, both my girls did. We were camped along one of the drainage ditches just off the main driveway, across from the sign in gate, with my parents who came up to support their granddaughters and all of our other family friends who were partaking in the races that weekend. During the weekend my kids were able to run around and play with all of the other kids that were there with their families, as well as race and watch other racers. They had so much fun that on Sunday when we had to leave for home, they were almost in tears because they didn't want to leave their friends and wanted to race more. During the evenings everyone camping on site was very respectful of the noise levels knowing that most people there had families with little ones. Yes in the evenings after the racing was over for the day, most of the adults enjoyed some adult beverages, but again, everyone was respectful of other people, their belongings, and Dave and Leanna's property.

I put a lot of man hours into preparing the Ranch for the races with many of my friends, so naturally come the weekend of the event I continued to volunteer my time as event staff and first aid. Being event staff had me wandering all around the property making sure things flowed smoothly. All of the racers and spectators were very respectful in all ways, such as all the garbage was put in appropriate disposal bins and not on the ground, there was no drinking or drug use that I saw personally, during the racing hours, people in vehicles were courteous to pedestrians and pedestrians were courteous to vehicle traffic, every one got along and was there for the same thing, to either put on an amazing show or to watch all the fun. There was a few minor issues of people using dirt bikes and atv's when they were not supposed to but once talked to by event staff they were very apologetic and gladly parked their toys till a time that was appropriate. On the first aid side of things there was only two minor things that happened. The first was the president of NWMRA got stung by a bee close to his eye, but was ok within a few hours, and the second was one of the racers burnt his arm on some hot exhaust. First aid put some burn cream on it and bandaged him up, and he was checked on a few times through out the weekend to make sure it was not infected. There was a few flips and roll overs in the Hill n' Hole and Free Style events, but with all of the required safety equipment in the race vehicles set out by NWMRA/100 Mile Horsepower Ranch, the drivers were safe and sound, but were still checked over by first aid attendants to confirm their health and safety.

I unfortunately had to leave earlier than I and my kids wanted to on the Sunday, as I needed to get my girls home to my ex wife, and we had a bit of a drive ahead of us. Leaving the Ranch I had to take my time driving down the rough dirt road with my camper and trailer towards Forest Grove. Myself and my kids took the time to watch the side of the roads as I always do, watching for garbage that disrespectful people have tossed out their windows. In the 20ish kilometers I stopped and picked up one piece of plastic.

All in all I am extremely happy with how the weekend turned out. There was a good number of people that came out either for the day or the weekend, from the community and from as far away as Alberta to either watch or partake in the event. I think this is an amazing event for all ages. Getting people out of their houses and away from their phones and computers is getting harder and harder, and I think events like this help to do that and to teach our kids, the next generation, that there is more to life than screens. I also think this was a huge benefit to the local communities and their economy. All the people going through town stopping for fuel and food. People needing accommodations if they don't have RV's, and auto part stores either for the racers needing that one last thing or the people coming to watch that have broke down. For the tow truck companies to rescue the broken down people and the tire shops for those that had a blow out on the way. It will also help the tourism, it will remind people how beautiful the Caribou is and inspire them to come back to the surrounding areas and enjoy it in all its beauty. Until I started going up to help Dave and Leanna it had been many years since being up in that area (i think i was around the age of my daughters) and I forgot how amazing it is up there, so my daughters and I will be making it a point to go up and enjoy the Caribou area a few extra times a year now, besides just for racing.

I look forward to getting back up to 100 Mile House/Forest Grove in the 2019 season to help continue the development of 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch, and be able to enjoy all it has to offer with my family and friends. Feel free to contact me in there is any questions or concerns.

Sincerely,

Chris Stephens

To whom it may concern.....

My experience regarding the 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch and the 2018 NWMRA is nothing less than amazingly memorable. The venue, the staff, the volunteers and the turn out of the spectators was heartwarming to see as a staff member of the event. No matter where we are the mud drags are always a huge collaborated and organized family friendly event and everybody is ALWAYS happy to lend a hand to make sure things go smoothly, paid or not. It is my experience that no matter who you talk to everyone is having a great time there is always help and questions are always answered because everyone is on the same page and everyone is hoping for the same outcome at the end of the weekend... Nobody got hurt, nobody went hungry or thirsty and we make sure our friends property is left the way we found it (very important as we work in the sanitation department of most of the events)

We travelled to this years event (July 14th and 15th 2018) in our motorhome with 2 Adults and 2 children and we camped near 4 or 5 other families who had 2 or more children all of them extremely extatic to see other kids, my children make some life long friends... friends that they will hopefully be excited to see again next year. NWMRA has always been a family friendly event that is very involved, not just during the races but throught the entire event.

Eveybody at the races are like family, it's like eveybody has something in common the ultimate getaway for people who like to see cars drive fast in the mud. Eveybody is your friend and you know that.

As far as sanitation goes and garbage left on scene, there are at least 100 garbage and recycling recepticles all over the event that are emptied and checked regularly during the weekend. I DO NOT LEAVE UNTIL EVERY PIECE OF LITTER IS GONE thats my job and it is an EXTREMELY important part to the NWMRA as well, not just the land owners, every chip bag, marking tape, cigarette butt and beverage container, ect is removed. That being said we are the last people, after the land owner, to leave and there was absolutely no garbage to be seen as the participants and spectators have no problem leaving their waste in provided bins.

We have been a member of the NWMRA for 20+ years and 100 Mile Horseposwer Ranch does not only meet but it exceeds beyond words what this group needs to be a fun, family friendly, good hearted and affordable event that boasts the pallet of getting out and having fun with the family in the sun. It is my opinion that the NWMRA hosting at 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch is not only beneficial to local econnomy for its duration but will bring people FAR AND WIDE to experience and remember to come back to the 100 Mile and Area.

To whom it may concern,

I'm writing this letter in strong support of Horse Power Ranch and the event they held over the summer.

I want to start off by telling you about myself a resident of Bridge Lake for the last 14 years. My family consists of myself my husband and two adult children. We have attended all of the mud races events over the years in 100 Mile House. We consider it to be a family event, which we look forward to attending every year all together. The Horse Power Ranch put on one of the best events we have been to.

The event itself seem to be very well organized. There were people telling you where to park and in what area you could camp in. Which we did camp there for the weekend. There were some amazing ladies working the gate making sure you had your pass for the weekend and giving out information about the weekend event and the racers. There were plenty of outhouse all around the event as well as garbage cans. Security drove around the grounds the whole weekend. As well there were vendors selling food and treats. They also had a water truck driving around keeping all drive paths moist in order to keep the dust down.

The the mud race were awesome as always. The added freestyle show add even more entertainment and excitement. There were a lot of people at the event. I didnt realize there were that many people in 100 Mile to be honest. Everyone seem to be enjoying themselves. There were give aways during the day for the kids and adults.

We stayed the whole weekend at Horse Power Ranch. The property was very well maintained over the whole weekend. People come around empty the garbage cans the washrooms were emptied and cleaned. Every person we talked to was was pleasant and seemed to be enjoying themselves. In the evening there was one community fire for everyone to gather and enjoy. Everyone was friendly and more than willing to share their mud racing stories with you. We stayed until Sunday evening and packed up after the trophy presentations. There were places to put your garbage and a place for recycling. I personally did not see any person leave a mess in any of the camping areas.

In my opinion I thought it was a great family fun event. I would be very disappointed to see this event not to continue in 100 Mile House. I would assume that it brings in extra income to the 100 Mile area with the racers and visitors getting supply's from the grocery store, auto parts and other items they needed for the weekend. As a family we would love to see Horse Power Ranch stay and have more events. Thank you for taking the time to read my letter.

100 Mile Horse Power Ranch

January 19, 2019

My wife and I attended the racing event July 14/15 2018. We travelled from Abbotsford, BC with our toy hauler trailer and our mud racing truck.

This was the first event being held at this venue for the North West Mud Racing Association in which we are members. We travel to all our races across the province and this venue is probably the best laid out area for racing events. With the NWMRA, I see safety as being the highest priority at all the events. This race weekend did not change that priority at all.

The racers/pit crews/spectators all seem to respect the rules that are in place to let people have fun but be safe and go home at the end of the weekend.

Dave and Leanna Davies put a lot of thought into how to make their race venue the very best in the province and I believe they did just that. There were enough toilets and garbage cans spread around the facility for all to use. They also had 4-6 spots for handicap parking which was right beside our camp spot and everyone respected this parking.

This was by far the best event we have been to in our racing circuit and look forward to returning in 2019.

We left early Sunday July 15th because of mechanical issues with our race truck and left around 2 pm. The gravel road out to the highway was in very good shape as well as we did not notice any garbage along the roads.

If you are reading this letter to understand how this event went in your community let me assure you this was a well organized, clean, fun event for Families (yes there are always Kids at our events)

My wife and I fully support 100 Mile Horse Power Ranch for future generations of family racing.

To whom this may concern, I feel that the mud drags are a very important event to this community!!!! This is a big family event all family members welcome. They give out free ear plugs for any of the children which is awesome! They are very big on safety so nobody gets hurt. The area where the event is kept very clean and the area is put back the way they first got there. They are not near any streams, they take pride in keeping the environment safe! They have food you can purchase to eat a family can really make a fun day of it!!! I save my money in anticipation for the mud drags!!!! The whole town can't wait for the event!! There is such a positive vibe when you are there. Also they have a junior races at the end so as to involve all members of all the families. The kids are happy to participate in this! Fun for all. It's a very well organized event. It's not hard to find it and the road is good condition and it's far enough out to when it doesn't bother people. Also last year I lost my husband and at the end of the weekend there was an honor dedication speech about my husband and how he wanted to be at those races and he was a huge fan and they made a toast to my husband and one of the racers ran in memory of my husband!!!! That was awesome I was there with my daughters and it's a good memory after one week only when I lost my husband!! Everyone is welcome and that's great cause there isn't always a lot of things you can do like that as a whole family. It's once a year and something to look forward too! Thanks Kathleen Loft

Hi we attended the first of hopefully many weekends at 110 mile horsepower ranch. It was a great well organized weekend with lots of good memories. My wife and me attended and camped as we have friends that were racing. Unfortunately our truck was not ready to compete. We did have to run to town twice to get cell service to check in on our daughter over the weekend. The road in and out to town was in great condition both times we traveled it. When we left on Sunday we stopped part way out to check that our gear was properly stowed for the trip back to quesnel there was a plastic wrapper from a case of bottled water on the side of the road. We promptly stuffed that under the rear seat so it could not get blown out of a truck box again. For the distance we traveled it was a good feeling to only see that one piece of garbage. We also camped at lac la hash campground on the way there and now we are planning a return camping trip there for this year. Thanks to 100 mile horsepower ranch for all your hard work dedicated to this fast growing sport!!!! Cant wait for next time!!

100 Mile Horsepower Ranch

I attended the festivities in July 2018 and they were awesome. There was three of us and stayed all weekend camping. We had a great time and even volunteered. There were 3 other families with us and all camped and volunteered together. We all starting to arrive and set up camp on the Friday and a couple of families left on the Sunday and the rest left on the Monday.

The roads were great, a lot better than when I go out to see my mom, who lives out past the ranch. What makes the road so bad is the logging trucks up and down the roads. I never saw any garbage along the roads or on the property. The grounds were kept neat and there were garbage cans placed throughout the grounds.

We never heard of any problems, we saw lots of security people on the grounds walking around all day and until late into the night. They did a great job keeping things under control.

My family use to go when the races we on Scotty's property, and were vderly disappointed when they got canceled. We were so excited to hear they were back in 100 Mile. I think this event is great for the whole family. We saw several kids having fun.

I think the owners of the property did an excellent job and we all look forward to the races coming again in 2019 and beyond.

Great job 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch.

My name is Sarah, I attended and camped at the 2018 100 mile mud drags with my two children, my sister Ashley and her family.

We had a great time! We especially enjoyed how close the property is to a local lake. The road to the event was in good condition and the property was easy to find.

I felt that we were accommodated very well, they had security on site, the bathrooms were kept up, there was a local food vendor to get burgers and enough garbage cans that everyone picked up after themselves.

Thank you to Dave and Leanna for their amazing hospitality and I would definitely recommend this event to anyone looking for a great family friendly muddy time.

I went to last summers mud races and they were awesome! I went with my boyfriend, my mom and my two older sisters as well as we brought our dog! All the volunteers were super friendly! Everyone else was super laid back! It was definitely family friendly! The grounds and bathrooms were kept clean! The road leading to the drags were a bit dusty but other then that they were good! No garbage anywhere! Also!! My dad recently passed before then and they arranged a memorial speak type thing to be announced and it made my day! I've always gone to these races when ever they were put on with my parents and sisters! It would be a shame if they were discontinued!! BRING ON MUD DRAGS 2019!!!

To Whom it may concern,

I do demolition derby and mud racing in Western Canada and the USA. I am currently hosting a demolition derby show called "Iron Assassin's Destruction Dome Demolition Derby". It is the largest indoor event in B.C. with over 100 vehicles competing from B.C., Alberta, and the USA. I have seen all levels of professionalism at different shows. Some I will never attend again because of the dangers to competitors and/or crowd. I help with other events all over and write Technical Build Rules for multiple shows.

The "100 Mile Horsepower Ranch" Mud racing event was not only completely professionally but run the best out of all the mud racing events I've attended or completed in. I live in Abbotsford B.C. and drove my truck from home to the event to compete July 13th and arrived late that night. I have never been to the property before but was very surprised to see how well it was laid out. They had camping sections with portable toilets and everything anyone would need. The track was set up perfectly with large loader tires lining the sides to stop any competing vehicles hitting the crowd. The safety zone was more than most tracks and no one was ever on the track when trucks were racing. All the event crew had reflective vests on at all times. No one had any open alcohol while racing and the show was better organized than the Chilliwack show at Heritage Park. There was no competing vehicles driven after the show and none were allowed to leave the property. There was no off-roading anywhere after hours and there was never signs of empties or party remnants anywhere. No quad or dirt bikes were driven around at night other than event crew.

My Father is a retired Conservation Officer with 30 years of service in B.C. and he educated me on all kinds of environmental issues. The Aquatic creek on the property never had any vehicles, quads or dirt bikes even close to it. The Creek was never Turbid and the complete Aquatic system was never disturbed.

I enjoyed the event from start to finish. I saw that it was run appropriately before, during and after the show. The logging road was in good condition and I saw no safety issues for any spectators, competitors, or anyone else using the logging road. The logging trucks do more damage to the logging road than anything that occurred at the event. The event was run only during the day and there was no noise pollution to surrounding properties in the evenings and very very minimal during the day when the 12 or so top fuel trucks ran for 3-4 seconds.

The economic stimulus for 100 mile house is a great positive side effect of the show with Ice, food, alcohol, gas, parts, and anything else bought locally. The shows positives completely outweigh the negatives if any. One of the neighbours had parts vehicles in his yard and sold me an axle shaft for $100.

I left the property July 15th mid day and the property was spotless. The logging road didn't show signs of overuse or garbage and I look forward to coming to the show again in 2019.

If you have any questions or concerns you would like to get more clarity on. Please don't hesitate to call or email me back.

Thank you,

To whom it may concern,

I attended the 100 mile horsepower ranch mud drags event on July 14th and 15th, 2018 with my family, three kids and two adults. The event was organized and professional. Over the weekend the racers and spectators were enjoying the event to its fullest potential. I did not witness any negative or unsafe behaviour. I feel that the property was clean and respected by the attendees. We left the event at 6 PM Sunday, July 15th, 2018. On the roads out of the ranch, no garbage or messes were visible to me. My family and friends had a great experience at the ranch and look forward to next year.

To Whom It May Concern,

My husband and myself attended the 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch for the event put on by the North West Mud Racing Association on the weekend of July 14 & 15, 2018. We travelled from Hope, BC with our 32' travel trailer and pickup. We met up with our oldest son and 2 Granddaughters (who were there to race in the Junior division), also our youngest son who was there as a volunteer first aid attendant (he brought the ambulance for Trama Tech). My husband, oldest son and myself were also volunteering in first aid.

From what we saw, people behaved very well. The event had security, and it was well run. There was plenty of garbage receptacles and well as a large bin that we threw our garbage into.

Although we did not stay for the very end, we left after the last heat for the Junior division as my husband needed to get us home so we could get him ready to leave for work as he is gone for 10 days at a time. There were a lot of people who left before and at the same time as us. We saw no excess garbage on the road, everyone drove with consideration as it is a dirt road and once on the paved road, the people immediately ahead and behind us drove with the same consideration.

All in all, this was a well run event and we are looking forward to next year.

Good Morning,

My name is Elenor Fawcett. I am the Treasurer/Secretary for the North West Mud Racing Association. I am writing in regards to the July 14/15, 2018 event held at the Davies 100 Mile Property which was sanctioned by the NWMRA. I would like to make a few comments in regards to last year's event.

Myself, Hubby and our Two Children arrived the Evening of Thursday July 12th, 2018 at the site. Normally we are one of the first to show up as I am the main Volunteer to run the Main Gate on Fridays. We usually show up on the Friday for all events but I wanted to be available for anything as it was a new site. On Friday I personally greeted everyone who showed up, I took their information, had them sign waivers etc. I would like to note that the majority of people I saw were part of our racing community and came as a family.

During an event I have a habit of going around and making sure everyone is enjoying our Family Event. I do not tolerate any reckless behavior. During this event specifically I had no major issues to deal with and it seemed like everyone fully enjoyed the show. I spoke to multiple neighbors and Cariboo Officials and everyone seemed to be really happy to see how well of an event it was and that the Town really needed this.

On Monday in the late Afternoon, we left to go back home. The Property was being returned to the condition it was prior to the event. We had provided a large Garbage Bin and was extremely happy with how the property and surrounding areas looked. I would like to say that this Site has so much potential. Last Year the Davies put their hearts and souls into getting this site ready for us.

Is there things that could improve at HHR, absolutely. I feel the most important one would be parking. This would help with not having vehicles parked on the road. This is one of the things they were hoping to address this year but had simply run out of time last year.

Finally I would like to note that I firmly stand by, that all NWMRA Sanctioned Events are Family Events. My father was part of the originally board and I grew up going to races all over our beautiful Province.

Sincerely,

Elenor Fawcett

Treasurer/Secretary for the North West Mud Racing Association

My experience at 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch was amazing. I rented a trailer from Meridian RV in 100 mile and took my wife and son to the mud drag event for the weekend.

I was the excavator operator for the weekend. I helped maintain the mud pits, cleaning them up in between shows and pulling stuck or broken trucks out of the way if needed. In all my experience 4x4ing around the Lowermainland the gravel roads in to the Horsepower Ranch were exceptional. The mere width was what caught my attention first, the quality of the road was obvious. I assume the road has a high capacity due to the amount of logging in the area. It was a bit dusty traveling in but otherwise very nice.

Once we arrived, we found a spot up front nice and close to the action. I was a bit concerned about being too close to the spectator area and having to deal with potential drunk or rowdy people, but I did not see one person drinking the whole time the event was on. I was constantly back and forth from our RV to the excavator, walking through the spectators each time. Everyone was extremely respectful of the rules the Davies and NWMRA put in place.

At the end of the first day there was also very minimal garbage left behind, majority of which had made it in the provided garbage barrels. Any garbage that was dropped was always picked up promptly. All the volunteers at the event were very friendly and helpful, from watering the pits, to helping flip trucks back over, or helping someone find a place to park, they were on top of everything. They were also very easy to find with bright orange t shirts. The event was very well put together, it was safe, fun, and clean.

I was one of the last people to leave 100 mile horsepower ranch along with a group because my truck was having some mechanical problems. I did manage to borrow a truck to return the rented RV trailer. I drove the road 3 times that day, once to return the trailer, then back to pick up my family and my broken down truck. The multiple trips I made up and down that road on Monday gave me plenty of opportunity to spot and garbage along the route. I did not notice any trash on the sides of the road, it was left very clean. The road itself was also still in great condition making it easy to go to 100 mile and back again. I eventually got my truck running thanks to the help of Dave and Leanna for lending me tools and left to go home. The location looked as good as it did leaving as it did when we first showed up. As I was leaving Dave was running the excavator, smoothing over the mud pits as they had plans to allow neighbors to graze their horses on the property and eventually allow someone to come hay.

It was the highlight of mine and my families summer, and I would definitely go again. My son enjoyed himself, made new friends and still talks about it to this day and he's only 4 years old.

To whom it may concern,

I visited the 100 mile Horsepower Ranch during the summer of 2018 for their first big event. This was the first event to ever take place at the 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch and I certainly hope it is not the last.

The reason for this is because I found it to be very well put together, and operated. The Davies who own the property had a plethora of crew members around the grounds at all time. They were doing everything from helping people park and get their camp set up, to picking up garbage and helping the motorists get into place for races. I'm my opinion they put on a great and clean event.

I have been to many events similar to this one over the years but have never seen one run so smoothly or be so clean once the event was over. Considering they received about 2000 people who attended (more than I certainly expected) it never once felt over crowded or like there was a lack of crew members to help out with any concerns. I watched both Dave and Leanna Davies speak with a number of guests at the event, they always cared and were eager to help them.

This was by far the best experience I have ever had at any mud racing event. The people were kind, respectful, and we made new friends both locally from the lower mainland as well as from 100 mile and the surrounding area. The crew members were kind, helpful, and diligent. The property was clean and well maintained and so were the roads on the way out.

Bearing in mind the size of the event and number of people who attended I was very pleased with the steps the Davies took to ensure everyone's safety as well as the cleanliness of the grounds during and after the weekend. Even when we left after the freestyle competition on Sunday, the roads we're remarkably clean and drivers were respectful.

Crew members were walking around at all times to ensure rules were followed, for example, NO wood burning camp fires allowed, which the staff members strictly enforced throughout the weekend.

When we attended it was simply my partner and myself as our son was away that weekend. However we have told him about the event and he is already looking so forward to this years and we are looking forward to taking him and sharing this amazing, fun, safe, and unique experience with him as a family this summer (hopefully).

Our family does have a cabin where my father resided for over 12 years as his primary residency with my grandfather before moving down to the coast with my mother and myself. I for one am proud of the 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch and love that it is so close to our family cabin on Green Lake.

I spoke with a couple of the store owners within 100 mile and the local areas, and they couldn't believe the volume of customers they had throughout the weekend. After all, busy days with lots of sales = more profits.

The business I saw brought in by this one event over the course of just 2 days was amazing! This could really be something that helps the community around it as well. Why some people want to try and shut it down is beyond me, but just like with anything, there will always be those putting people down as they succeed. And in my opinion from a personal stand point, and a professional stand point they succeeded.

I think this event during the summer of 2018, was done very well, especially for a first time event and created a lot of revenue for the local area from what I could see. Never once did I feel unsafe or concerned. My husband actually said he saw me the most relaxed I have been in over a year. And I felt that way, I felt relaxed there. I felt at peace, I felt comfortable and I felt safe. For these reasons combined, we both had a lot of fun and look forward to sharing this experience this summer with our son.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern;

Regaurding 100 Mile Horse Power Ranch and they're event in the summer of 2018.

My Name is Adam Smolcic myself and my uncle Mark Austin attended this event coming from Port Coquitlam and Richmond BC. We payed for 2 nights at the red coach inn, in which I decided not return (it's not very nice) and stay on site with friends. We also drove up in separate vehicles.

The grounds themselves were very well maintained, the portajohns were in surprisingly good shape and were clearly being maintained.

Staff/vollenteers, food and medical services were easily located and well marked.

Saftey measures taken to protect viewers during racing were in my opinion more then they needed to be and I felt safe viewing from everywhere.

Camping overnight was the most pleasant experience of my summer, I mingled alongside drivers and Sectors alike and everyone was just so happy to be there the mood was incredible, I never wittness anyone getting out of hand or any psychical altercations.

The sites themselves were well placed and flatter them expected.

I would return to this event every year this has the potential to be one of notoriety and I really hope they can continue.

Sincerely
Adam Smolcic

As a family we have been attending the NWMRA races for 4 years now. My son is now racing in junior class.

We attended the races at 100 mile horse power ranch on the weekend on July 14-15. We arrived in our Motorhome as a family of four with two children 12&7, we came with 3 other family's and we all camped together.

We arrived late morning on July 13th and left in the evening on July 15th.

I found the the owners and hosts to be very welcoming and did a fantastic job of keeping the grounds and the road in and out clean of any garbage and debris.

We are most definitely looking forward to more races at this particular location, i loved the warming community feel, we got while being there for the weekend.

I was able to chat with some locals who came to watch the races and they said they enjoyed it and said that they were also looking forward to this event happening again.

Definitely a great way to spend a fun family weekend away.

Dear District of 100 Mile,

I'm writing this letter to support 100 Mile Horse Power Ranch. I've moved to 100 Mile when I was a little guy. I'm currently 21 and have lived here now 14 years. I also work in town as a mechanic and support my community. I did attend the event that was held at the Horse Power Ranch.

In my opinion the event was outstanding and very organized. It was great to have a event that we as young adults could attend and camp there. Being there are very few things for young adults to do around town.

The property at Horse Power Ranch was laid out great. Clean and well maintained garbage cans everywhere. Lots of porta potties for everyone to use. The mud races, freestyle and hill in a hole were excellent and entertaining. There were a ton of people there and of all ages enjoying the weekend.

It would be a great disservice to all the youth and families to see this great event not to happen. My self and many of my peers would love to have more events held there. I wholeheartedly support this event.

I've been to events all over CANADA and USA and this 100mile event was amazing it's what we need in BC for the off-road community. I drove up from Maple Ridge BC and did all my shopping in 100mile support the small community and gas stations along the way. Dave and Leanna have this event under full control everyone respects them and even more so now because they're trying to help building us a playground that's much needed. For us, the event grounds were clean surprisingly with the amount of people there. They had garbage cans everywhere and people making sure they weren't littering. I didn't even really see cigarettes butts anymore it was made loud and clear to respect the property/ neighbors and the land all around. To the city of 100mile this is a good group of people you're dealing with, the vision they have makes me excited for our sport that I've been involved with for 20yrs. Their events will bring a ton of money into the community. I really hope to see 100mile HPR a staple in the community for years to come.

Thx,

Nolan Skopliak

To whom this may concern.

The 100 mile mud drags have been a huge thing in my family! Ever sense I was little I went to every mud drags with the Briand family! And it was something we always looked forward to! And the 100 mile mud drags was the only one my parents could ever make it to, as the others were to far! And I think a lot of other family's would agree that live in 100 mile. It's a weekend all the family's can get out and enjoy an awesome weekend of entertainment. And something we don't get to see everyday! 100 mile being a small town already means there's not a lot of things to do or events put on and I know that the mud drags are a huge event everyone looks forward to and there's no harm in doing them..and it would be a shame to take them away. They were well put together, very organized, and very clean! And not to mention there wasn't a single person there not having fun wether it be kids or adults! Last year my father passed away and at the 100 mile house mud drags there was a truck put in and raced in memory of him and they did a toast for him at the end! Meaning it has a very special spot in our hearts and seeing it gone would be heartbreaking. In the end I hope we get to see the mud drags in 100 mile every year!

Sincerely, Piper Loft.

July 15th, 16th, 2018 I attended a mud race event on a property known as Horse Power Ranch. Being a promoter of motor sports I look at events differently than other spectators. I look at the facility as to find faults as well as how well the event is put on. Yes being first event there is always room for improvements or tweaks. Safety was good, all race vehicles raced away from spectators, lots of crowd dividers, 3 ft high berms and staff to police. Photo's are sent in to the under writers for approval before event is granted permission to proceed.

Environment: The creek was not in the picture, far from actual event. Clean up was immaculate.

Drinking: I saw none while event was taking place, insurance will not have any tolerance for participants drinking while event is on. I would give Horse Power Ranch a high mark for their efforts.

Road In: Looked as tidy on the way in as the way out. Concerns of the road, could we not step up the word of police presence. For the people of 100 Mile, this event not to happen would be a shame.

On behalf of myself, Bill Allinott, and my grandchildren, I thank you for your time and consideration.

Re: 100 Mile Horsepower ranch

In early 2018 I was asked to help my friends Dave and Leanna Davies build the property they just bought, just north of Forest Grove BC in the 100 Mile House area. The plan was to build the property in to a private motor sports venue to serve the local area. I spent many weekends through the spring and early summer up there at the ranch helping the Davies on there property.

The first steps were to control the water on the property that had run wild due to lack of upkeep as the property was unused. Leanna had spent countless hours planning and researching the rules and regulations on the property, as evident by the large binder she carried with her, so we would not harm any of the habitats on or near the property. Once water control was taken care of and the main road into the property repaired, work began on making a mud racing tracks, a freestyle ring and suitable camping accommodations for participants and spectators alike, as the property was isolated from local amenities.

We spent countless hours, weekends and more, poring our hearts and energy to make a place that people would want to come to and appreciate. Any one who knows Dave And Leanna on any level as a friend or fan of there 4x4's know that all they want to do is a fun time in the best and safest way possible. The property was from the beginning was designed to be family friendly a safe place you could bring your kids of any age to have fun with off-road vehicles of any type. Being Family friendly was always a priority and never not an option for the Davies, They themselves have two young children of there own, as-well as two young nephews, and many of their close friends have kids also.

Being a Emergency Medical Responder I volunteered my services to the Davies and brought up the ambulance that was needed to help keep everyone safe. I made the drive up to the ranch early on the friday morning from my home in Cloverdale. There was excitement for the event even down on the coast and Fraser Valley, as we drove up country the excitement only seemed to grow the closer we got from the people we talked to on the way, stopping in 100 mile for food gas and groceries as I had done many times before on my numerous trips up there. Talking with the local people i was hard to find a person that wasn't happy that the races were back in the 100 mile area.

After getting to 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch I was able to meet up with the rest of my family, my parents, my brother and his two little girls that were ecstatic to be there as they were competing in the junior class and the younger one was going to be racing her first ever race here at the ranch. The camping was well organized and continued to be as people rolled in. Having many people helping as event staff Dave and Leanna were not shy on doing anything the could to make this run as smoothly as possible as Dave would personally walking people to there campsites to ease the confusion of people who had never been here before.

On the days of the races the event staff and North West Mud Racing Association who were the sanctioning body for the races were on top of keeping racers and spectators in there designated areas as they were given identifying wrist bands as the entered the gate on arrival before the could park. Fans and racers alike were very respectful of the rules put in place by the Davies and the NWMRA, as Event staff and first aid I was walking around before and during the races there many garbage cans and butt bins for cigarettes and people were using them as apposed to dumping their trash on the ground. There was a strict rule in place that there was to be no drinking or use of drugs during the races, and as i walked around i had no issued of people breaking this rule in the stands or in the pits. Everyone seemed to be trying to do there part to have a fun and enjoyable time. During the course of the weekend there were only two medical calls that required first-aid attention 1. a race official was stung near the eye by a bee or wasp and they were carefully monitored and was deemed okay by the first-aid team. And the second was a racer got a minor burn to the hand when working near a hot exhaust and was treated appropriately. There was no fighting or any disorderly conduct of any kind that took place over the weekend and any one on site when asked was having the time of their lives.

By the end of the weekend most of the people that were leaving on the sunday night had left, being i was driving the ambulance back to the city to return it to the company it was rented from i was one of the last to leave on Sunday leaving just a few racers and event staff on the property that were cleaning it up the drive out just before dusk was just as nice as the drive in there was next to no garbage on the road which was a surprise due to the amount of people at the event and i had tome to look as i could ony drive at about 40-45 kph as the road had loose gravel in spots and was washboard in others. After one final stop in 100 mile house as forest grove was closed for the night i grabbed dinner, fuel and snacks for the road and talked to some more locals I had seen at the event and they were super happy with how the event turned out. The man running the gas station we stopped at was also great full for the event as his business was booming all weekend long from the people heading to and from the race as well as the people how had to make trips back to town for food parts and more fuel.

Overall this event ran like a well oiled machine with many parts having to place a key role, the organizers the Davies were very open to help and answer question to any one who asked just like the RCMP officers that attended the event on site due to some false complaints and after walking around the event themselves they were impressed with how it was run. To the races spending their time and money to com all the way out to the caribou area to race and brake there truck as some including the Davies themselves, and anyone who know motorsports know it not cheep to break your toys.

I myself thought this event went well, there were definitely some learning curves than need to be overcome but no event is perfect on is first time. One of the concerns I did hear over the weekend was the traffic coming up to the race was a little crazy so that is something the ranch should look in to helping mitigate an control if and where possible. This is definitely a event i think should continue in the years to come and the Davies be able to hold more events on their property and possible use these event to directly help the surrounding communities through food bank drives during events or host local community events there that may or may not be motorsports related.

Thank you for your time

Andrew Stephens

Kelly Stephens	I have been there and it's a great place
Dustin Stacey	Me and my Family love the sport and Support leanna and dave davies !!
Jonah Marshall	4x4ing family, represents together in a collective way to share our love with musing for all ages to experience.
Chad Coelen	I had the great opportunity as an operator to come help build this track and shape this amazing adventure area... it will be great for racers.. campers.. horsepower enthusiasts from all around to come to.. bring revenue to local businesses... way to awesome to say no too.... lets keep this dream and vision alive....I vote a big fat YES!!!!
Daniel Ings	It needs doing
Tanya Baraniuk	Great family event and community
Melanie Janes	My friends love this place
Chris Gough	This is a great opportunity for the surrounding communities and families of the communities to experience awesome events and a new venue for more awesome events to come !
Clint Smith	Love this idea and support positive things for tourism
Kim Reeves	we need more 4x4 motorparks for events and this is an excellent venue. There is considerable economic development potential for 100 Mile House and surrounding communities as well. I support this wholeheartedly! Kim Reeves, President, Four Wheel Drive Association of BC.
Nolan skopliak	100mile Horse Power Ranch is needed for the BC 4x4 community. And it'll be Canada's premier off roading park eventually!
Rebecca McGowan	I would absolutely love to come up and camp! This would boost the economy for that area as well!!
Tom Burke	Sanctioned areas for off-road events are necessary to ensure the growth of a popular sport. Too many areas are being shut down and forcing new areas to be discovered. It makes total sense to create parks for events like these. Not only would it be regulated but it would promote tourism! Nay sayers should attend these events, witness exactly how they are run, how they are great for families and experience something they normally wouldn't see!
Phil Binka	Its a fantastic use of the land and a great source of pride and revenue to the area
Aleisha Meyers	I completely agree that we need more 4x4 access and ways to use the land for more family events!
Abby Wiseman	This is what I, and many other people I know love to do. And it means a lot to our community to have the ability's in 100mile to do what we love
Shane wonnacott	Great new place to hold an event and to grow in to a fun place to go
Dave Sweets	Love the area
adam furlong	Much needed venue for off-road racing. We need more.
STEVEN BRUCE	Yup I'm in!!
Jared Kayal	I love this venue
Tyler Laflamme	Because these events are awesome!
Rob Neale	We need more 4x4 parks
Jason Cross	This would be a great resource!
chris radney	This is a great event and location with a lot of work and effort put into it
Shayne Boulter	I 4 wheel
Steve Somers	this is a way people can enjoy the sport and see what its all about. the drivers love to give hell and put there rigs through hell. we need more of this not less.
Troy Rud	Is good times for family and friends to watch and participate
Josh Hall	Having a designated area to do these activities, is far superior to doing them in places, that they shouldn't.

Chris Brochu	We need more events like this!!!
gary biddlecombe	It's good fun for the whole family!
Raymond Buis	Recreation in Canada needs to be supported
Anthony Lawson	I attended this years races, they were well out on and managed.
brittany doucette	loved the races a great group of people are putting this together lets support them so we can all continue to have fun in future years
Mike Brady	This is a must event. Great turn out this past summer. Looking forward to next year.
Matt Zerr	I am a strong supporter of what the Davies family are doing and that they are good for the community.
Kaitlyn Milne	Dave and Leanna Davies are awesome people and I believe what they have built Horsepower Ranch into is something amazing and fun. They deserve the chance to keep having races.
Dakota Wonnacott	I've been going to the mud drags with my dad since I was a little girl and every person needs to experience this in their life. Hope y'all can get what you need!!! See you next year here in Chilliwack
Jackie Seders	I agree with this decision
rose downey	We all need a place to play
sedrick simon	For the love of all things 4x4 !!! #dirtchurch #bcnissan4wd #4wdabc
Joseph Dagloria	Horsepower rocks
Joe scott	We need more things like this and more things to do. Nothing but family fun

Zane machel	I'm a offroad and enjoy trails with friends and family
Dereck Murphy	We need more places to be able to use our off road vehicles...
Brian Cooke	100% support this. We love the fun filled family events and another venue is exactly what's needed.
Travis Ellis	We need more places like this to go and have fun.
Ashley Davis	100% support this mudtacular event for the whole family!
CORY MILLIGAN	Good for the community
Jessyca Cairns	jessyca cairns
Mike Johnson	the positive economic impact a venue like this brings to the surrounding community is reason enough to support it, plus the opportunity host some amazing events.
N A	I'm glad to help a neighbour improve the community and support it's people! plus it's right around the corner from me!
Brian Hewitt	There needs to be these types of venues for off-road recreation!
Kolleah Olson	We need these awesome family events around here!! It is great for the economy and family's to gather together
Nicholas Manky	Im signing because we need more of this, not less of this.
Kerryann McKenzie	Absolutely Love Mud Racing♥ Have been involved since the '70's ♥ Good "Dirty" Fun for All Ages
Tylor Walker	I love the sport of mud racing, and would like to have more venues to be able to attend.

Kim Schumacher	I support Motorsport Parks for sanctioned and insured events.
Jennifer Gunion	This is an awesome opportunity for not only for the public but also the land owners!
Brian Wiebe	My two young kids and I attended the event all weekend, and it was excellent! Seemed like everyone was respectful of the site, there was good staff, washrooms, food, etc....I'll be back for the next one!
Kimberley Drombolis	I'm signing because I live in the Cariboo and love supporting local/neighboring communities. This event would be huge for 100 mile house and bring the community lots of revenue from tourism.
Elijah Danielson	I support events that help the community.
Devon Rumball	This is a great event for family and friends to get together and have fun
Crystal Joye	Mud racing is great and brings people together
kathy webb	it has to stay open its tons of fun for families to go watch and they are not hurting anyone by having some fun. Stop shutting things down that families can enjoy
Brittany Frye	I think this is an amazing idea and i guy support this cause/petition! Good luck Dave and Leanna!
krystal menning	Fun event for the whole family
Crystal Pedersen	It's for good cause.
Crystal Rousseau	I think the commercial tourism is a wonderful ideas to bring Families together to compete and bring people together as a hole. We need more controlled camping areas
Chrisie Cyr	Chrisie cyr
matthew irvine	More motorized recreational areas are needed. Currently motorsports do not have enough areas to operate in making them unavailable to many. This also provides a huge benefit to the local community
Chris Dirksen	The 2018 event was a great. So well organized, especially being the first year. Hope this can carry on as an annual event for years to come.
Stephen Loyst	Steve loyst
Veronica Johnson	So supporting you Dave and Leanna of this zoning. 2018, was a huge event and I am so very proud to have been a part of it with you with our Food Trailer. Next year will be bigger and better. you have mine and I am sure everyone else' support in the zoning, Congratulations, Job Well Done 2018 - see you in 2019.
andrew sandiland	I took my son and he loved it it was a great safe event full of great folks and a great way to spend a weekend
Terry Perron	Hope to go next year.
Karen Kelsall	The boys need a place to 4 wheel

matt drozdowich	There just the best darn people. Why wouldnt they have better campsites and facilities for guests?!
christian Freyta	4x4 enthusiast
Wendy Downing	I support off-roading sports!
Brenda Gagnon	We need more campsites and fun activities for our young people to enjoy.
Carla Hale	Signing to support my nephew!!

Josh Morneau	I'm signing because I love wheeling and would love to see more parks like this!
grant Beacock	because it is needed and i believe more places like this will reduce the number of trucks tearing up the back country for safety and responsible mud bogging this is needed and more of them.
Zac McClelland	Great family fun!
Steve Simicak	Wonderful idea. Tourism is essential in any community. Good luck.
Renee Sargeant	This is a really good track and I'd love to have more races and the turn out of trucks and people was awesome
Cody Moffoot	I support the use of land for motorsports events
Robert OWEN Findler	We need more places that support these activities in a safe and lawful manner rather than preventing them and causing distraction elsewhere in the backcountry.
Jenn Bennett	I am signing because I had a blast and would travel again for this fun and amazing event. The friends fun times all around ☺
Matt Freeman	This place is awesome and the people behind it are amazing
Chelsea Thomsen	I believe in the event and the free expression of the sport of your choosing.

Rob Chatton	We need places like this with our Govt. Selling omg public lands.
Sean Lynch	sean lynch
Saranna Greveling	We need more venues for sanctioned races like this! It's so important to support local, homegrown fun in a sanctioned environment where risks are mitigated (vs backwoods fun where all sorts of damage can occur). Plus commercial tourism has many ripples into the local economy!
Patrick GORDON	We need venues for people to use the toys we slave over to enjoy.
Bonnie Lickers	I love this place and all the people who make it possible
Debbie Hofley	I want this event to be an annual occasion.
shane ganong	We need more venues like this. Safe responsible facilities reduce public land abuse.
Anika Haerter	I attended the 2018 races and my experience was beyond my expectations. I hope to see the venue grow and thrive as I believe it can!
Zack Mischook	I support every aspect of it.
Elias Enneddam	Sounds like I hoot of a time
Michael Shantz	please Help 100 Mile Horsepower Ranch and the re-zoning They R requesting To make More more campsites and to preserve it to build trails in the trees for ATVi riding and Horseback riding and hiking
Patrick Christow	I support this event
Kal Gill	Kulwinder Gill
Jean Yellowlees	Everyone please sign ,a very good cause ,
Kevin Del Degan	I fully support these kinds of family friendly events
Ashley F	This has provided so much for our little town!! Let's keep up with the support
Matt Ion	Love to see an economic driver that's also fun, coming to my hometown.
Mike Smith	We need stuff like this.
Mike DeLeeuw	Much needed venue for the Cariboo region
Graham Harder	Having a place for an off-road park makes more sense then letting people wander the wilderness causing irreversible damage
Antonio Veltri	Antonio Veltri
Zachari Andrew	It's for a a great cause
Colin G	We need more stuff like this in B.C. signing for a good cause and good crew

Marlen buitelaar	I have no idea why i'm signing this
Silesia Bailey	Had so much fun! Great family event. A must go for the community
Giuseppe Pelliccia	It makes sense!!!
Giuseppe Pelliccia	It's the right thing to do
Chris Pellizzari	BC needs more public spaces, but private event land like this helps too.
Morgan Brown	We need to have more of these off road parks where people can play and have fun without causing damage to fragile ecosystems.
Jamie Thompson	Doin it for my budz
Jenn Stasica	Went this summer. Came from William's lake. Was a great turn out for trucks but I was disappointed in the mud :/ was more like muddy water.. ended up leaving early so maybe they got to a muddier hole? I dunno. Another thing that wasnt great was the seating. Usually events like this take place in somewhat of a pit so that spectators can layer out on the hill. But the seating for spectators is all flat and theres rows of ppl.... so ppl in the back could barely see. Parking was crazy also. Maybe with being allowed to rezone and make room for camping they can make this event even more enjoyable! just my 2 cents. Good luck!
Christopher Forrest	Great event hosted by a responsible group
Larry Stephens	Cause this is a awesome event
Michael Douglas	I support this
Britta Westerager	This event was wicked. It is also being done in a location that is out of the way/secluded so I dont ser a single problem with it. Keep the fun going and the coal rolling!
Nilio Erickson	Im cool and i think it would bring revenue to 100 mile businesses
Raymond Olson	People need space to race....." Can U dig it "
molly leathgood	It sounds like a great event !
coltin Brown	Fuck yeah
Zaq Born	I was told to
Tremel Lambrecht	Tourism, racing is a family affair, it's fun to watch.
dwayne belleville	Joe told me too!!! That's all I need
Steve Koning	Being outdoors is better than being online!
Kyle Lalonde	These races are a great for families. My father brought w to these races and that created a love for motors, mud, and lifted trucks. These races are very important to many people and families.
Dave Smith	I want to
Peter Chirpy	I'm not signing because I have friends that will be affected by this venture. When did the country
Kirkdale Quirkytale	lifestyle involve weekend warriors burning gas?
Mat (Maciej) Radoszewski	I live in the community and want to see this developed to support local businesses and offer more activities.
sharon cumiford	I think it's a great idea,allow these people to rezone
Martin Macleod	How?
Sarah Moore	I support this cause so we can attend future events at this venue :) this year was amazing !
Jan Kouwenhoven	I support these events
Patrick Skelley	Im signing because its a good event and good for 100 mile buissness
Dan Davidge	I support this

Shelley Lang	Shelley Lang

Stacey Harper	Respectful and safe 4x4ing is good for the community
Malorie Demers	I love being outside havin' a good time
d poi	It sounds like fun. What is the quality of the farm land???
Sean Kasper	I am active in various motor sports activities.
Leith McDonald	These events are a great way for family and friends to get together with like minded people and do what they love in a safe and controlled environment.
Tyler Baker	It keeps Offroad mudding in a secure safe location where family and friends can come and support the local economy while enjoying a Motorsport
Cindy Chiasson	There needs to be more people doing things like this to help us all get out and enjoy life thanks to you for wanting to support something so awesome for you community
Jeff Herbert	To help the local community
William Hyslop	I think it's a great idea.
Mark Johnson	Racing is cool and gets children involved in clubs that keep the responsible and driven jeanetta parker	It's an awesome event to go see. Tons of fun for the whole family. Lived the races when I was little and still do.
Zach Little	100 mile is awesome
Dallas Tiessen	The benefit to the area is huge, and a lot of family fun.
Mell Andrew	My cousin
Andrew Stephens	100 mile horsepower ranch is a family built family oriented motorsports park that brings mud racing back to the 100 mile house area plus new and upcoming events the property owners are very community oriented and down right good people.
Andrew English	Wheeling is fun... we need places to go
Amanda Beneke	It's a great event for community and will bring money to it as well.
Jessica Reid	This is one of the best bogging events in Alberta! A proper camp ground may attract even more people. We come from 5 hours away just to attend this event because it such a well run show!
Clint Douglas	It's a great idea! sustaining communities.
Nina Sedgbeer	I race and good venues are hard to come by
Tyler Collett	This creates tourism and jobs why else would you go to 100mile house now that forestry is in the shitter
Wade Johnson	I 4x4
Carol McCann	economic benefits for the community vendors are sourced locally also they will be building trails in the trees for ATV riding, Horseback riding and hiking. Its a win win
Linda Gardner	It is their land. They are just using what is cleared. They are making someplace people can go with their machines so they don't wreak our natural spots.
Amanda Randall	Why not! Friends went and had a wicked time! I'd love to check out the mud races next year
Sean Holland	Went to the event had a great time met lots of nice people everyone was very respectable to everyone an everything around them all around a great time would love to have more up coming events around the year
Tammi Martin	Just helping where I can! Good Luck!
Bryan Longmuir	Because these trucks are awesome An need a great place to go! Great spot awesome ppl

Gavin Mracek	I like the plan
Travis Jon	I think this would be great for future events and would benefit the community and the province.
John Bancroft	I support the mud drags! Let's keep our kids interested in motorsports!
Cody MacDuff	Wheeling is life don't take away our freedoms!
Dave McKinnon	Sign water Bomber petition to save BC https://www.change.org/p/new-democratic-party-b-c-new-water-bomber-petition-lets-go-voters
Robert Baker	This is something lots of people would enjoy and benefit from. As long as they don't oil the track for dust control I see it.
Ferone Kronstein	So many people would love this Campground space and racing events would be fun for so many people....
Dawn Kyle	We need more rec facilities like this.
Stephen Flanagan	It's needed for the people to have a place to race and great for the economy!
