AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT ADVISORY COMMITTEE – NORTH CARIBOO

AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT ADVISORY COMMITTEE NORTH CARIBOO

Progress Report

ADAC 2021 ACTIVITIES

1. CRD Committee of the Whole Presentation

On January 14, 2021 the Cariboo Regional District Committee of the Whole held a teleconference meeting, which included the following Delegation Presentations on Agricultural Planning in the Cariboo Regional District:

- Dr. David Connell, Associate Professor, Ecosystem Science and Management, University of Northern British Columbia
- Nicole Pressey, Regional Agrologist, Cariboo Chilcotin Coast, Ministry of Agriculture
- Gregory Bartle, Land Use Planner for Strengthening Farming, Ministry of Agriculture
- Lori Fogarty and Martin Rossmann, North Cariboo Agricultural Development Advisory Committee

The focus of the Agricultural Development Advisory Committee (ADAC) presentation was to provide an overview of the progress of the top 3 strategic plan recommendations developed in 2018 when the ADAC was established. These recommendations include moving forward the:

- Regional Agri-food Centre
- Agriculture Education Program
- Agriculture Area Plan

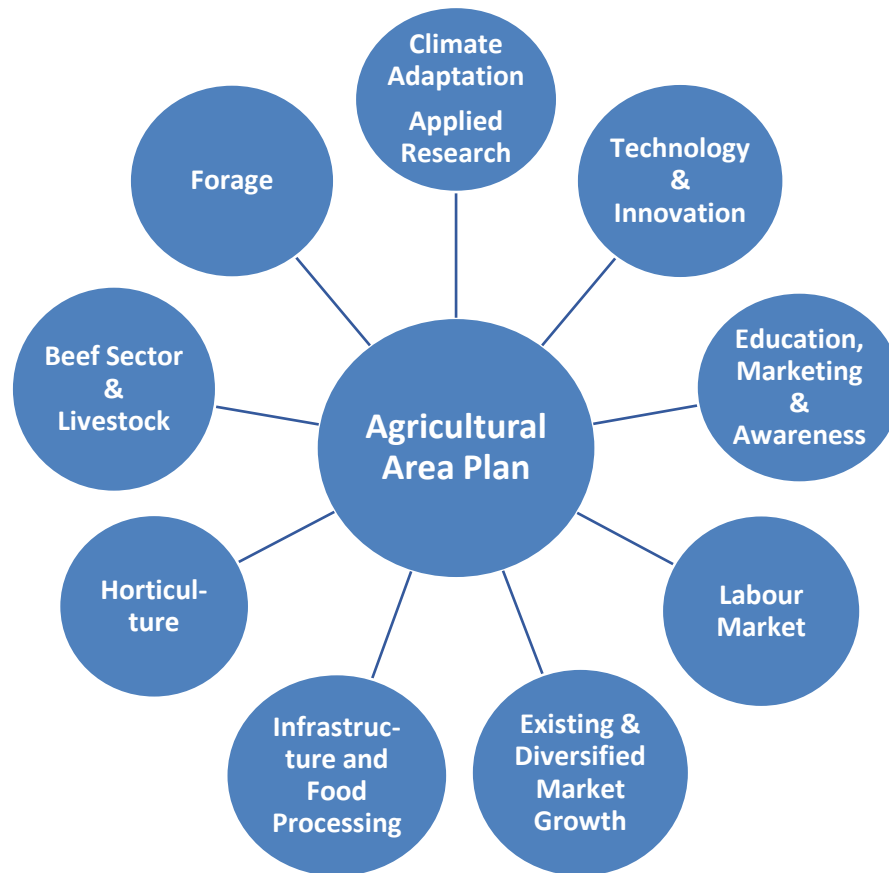

The presentation included a brief review of the progress made by the agriculture industry in the north Cariboo region since the CCBAC Agriculture Sector Strategy was published in 2007 and also identified some of the many issues that still need to be addressed. In addition, the recommendations of ADAC members provided during the 3-year assessment were shared with the meeting participants.

2. ADAC Agriculture Strategic Plan Sessions and Framework

The focus of the three Strategic Planning Sessions held virtually on February 26, March 12, and April 30, 2021 included presentations on Trends in Beef, by David Zirnhelt, director of the Cariboo Cattlemen's Association, and the Regional Food and Innovation Hub by Amy Quarry, the Project Manager and Amy Reid, the City of Quesnel Manager of Economic Development and Tourism. In addition, an analysis of the strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats (SWOT) related to the Cariboo region agriculture industry, identified the progress made since the 2007 Cariboo Chilcotin Beetle Action Coalition Agriculture Sector Strategy was released. The participants of the 3 sessions also reviewed and discussed the 2021 SWOT analysis presented by Nicole Pressey, regional Agrologist for the Ministry of Agriculture, Food and Fisheries, at the Cariboo Regional District Committee of the Whole meeting held on January 14, 2021. Participants in the 3 Strategic Planning Sessions included ADAC members, Agriculture Working Group members, agricultural sector representatives and organizations, and government representatives from Provincial, Local and Indigenous governments including Economic Development and Planning Services.

Using the information presented at the Strategic Planning Sessions, the CCBAC Agriculture Sector Strategy and additional resources, a Strategic Plan Framework has been developed to present the Strategic Planning Sessions participant commentary, and a ranking of the strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats, prioritized by conducting polls after discussing each component of the SWOT. In addition, for each of the components noted in the graphic below, strategic goals, objectives, and tactical plans have been developed.

The Strategic Plan Framework is currently under review by ADAC members and may be useful as a starting point in the process of developing the Agricultural Area Plan, as well as, assist with coordinating the implementation of the tactical plans.

3. Agriculture Area Plan

Premise:

- Long term planning for agriculture is essential for the continuing viability and sustainability of the agricultural sector;
- Acknowledges that the participation of local governments, senior levels of government, agricultural businesses, community organizations, and the public is essential to realize a resilient and profitable regional agricultural sector; and
- Agriculture Area Plans are initiated by local or regional governments.

Activities in 2021:

The CRD grant application for $40,000 from the Investment Agriculture Foundation, for the development of a Cariboo region Agricultural Area Plan (AAP) was approved, with the CRD contributing an additional $40,000 to the project. The CRD plans to hire a consultant with the ADAC members acting in the role of a steering committee in the development of the Agricultural Area Plan.

The CRD, with the support of ADAC is initiating a preliminary reach out to seek potential candidates to the committee, should the Board decide to expand the Agricultural Development Advisory Committee region-wide. To ensure Cariboo region agricultural industry and sector representation, a request for potential candidates from the Central and South Cariboo, as well as Indigenous groups within the region has been initiated. The list of potential candidates will be reviewed at the CRD Committee of the Whole meeting scheduled for November 18th, 2021, with the appointments to be made by the CRD Board at a future meeting after that.

ADDITIONAL ADAC ACTIVITIES - 2021

- ADAC membership review: Two-year term members appointment approved by CRD Board
- Provided input to the Quesnel Forest Landscape Plan Pilot Project Questionnaire 2021
- ADAC members, at the request of the CRD Planning Services department, reviewed the proposed Kwantlen Polytechnic University Institute for Sustainable Food Systems (ISFS) feasibility study for the development and implementation of an organic agriculture and food system extension service in BC, and provided a commentary of their analysis.
- Provided a letter of support for the Cariboo Regional District application to the Investment Agriculture Foundation Local Government Partnership Program for a Cariboo Agricultural Area Plan.
- Agricultural Education Program: A new program Facilitator was hired in October to assist with the completion of the program, which was funded through a Rural Dividend Project Development fund. The project completion date is planned for December 10th. Activities for completion of the project include the development of an Agriculture Education Program Resource Guide for educators in the north Cariboo and a survey of participating educators.

Looking Forward-2022

The Agricultural Development Advisory Committee members are pleased with the progress made in 2021 and look forward to working in the role of steering committee to guide the development of the Cariboo Agricultural Area Plan.

The committee members hope to efficiently align our resources with the Cariboo Regional District to facilitate the proposed expansion of the ADAC to include representation from the Central and South Cariboo, as well as Indigenous groups within the region in order to ensure regional agricultural industry input into the development and implementation of the Agricultural Area Plan. As part of this process, ADAC will continue the work on the Strategic Plan Framework and implementation document to inform the work on the formation of the Agricultural Area Plan.

In addition to the regular duties, the ADAC will continue to encourage participation in agricultural education-related activities and programs within the region and link with other organizations that are promoting these activities.

The members of the committee are grateful for the support of the many agricultural stakeholder groups and government representatives over the last year, as it works to move forward agriculture industry development in the region.
