Future Career

I am interested in the Cariboo Regional District Bursary as the career I am interested in is a family lawyer. My hope is to attend UVIC in the fall for their four-year Political Science program then their three-year law program. My studies in political science will help build me a career in our local government by teaching me valuable skills such as laws, political activities, and governmental power.

The topics I will learn about in my post-secondary studies will help my understanding of our local government. The laws of British Columbia are a crucial part of any job having to take part of local government. Lawyers must know the Canadians Rights and Freedom Chart by heart which is why the topic of law I will be learning about is significant to my future career. Learning about political activities in this course will also be helpful in the continuation of my future career as I must know how political events run, especially in a court of law. Political events include protests, debates, and elections which all ties into local government. Governmental power is another thing of the many things I will learn throughout my major. I will learn about the power the government has over us and how they use it to create a better province. In the future I will hopefully attend UVIC law school, and I will learn more about laws, political activities and governmental power throughout the three years I attend law school.

When I was 12, I decided on a job as a lawyer, and I have stuck to it ever since. I have been picking the classes that will help me succeed in this degree since grade 10. The idea of being a part of the government has always been a dream of mine. This is because I want a job where I feel as if I am changing a small part of the world when I go to work. I want to make a difference in this world and that is why I have chosen law as my dream job.
