Short Summary:

Defining Fire Protection Area Distances

Background:

The practice of the Cariboo Regional District (CRD) for as long as anyone can recall is to utilize 13 km as a maximum distance from the Firehall. There are no written rules or regulations that the CRD has been able to locate.

To aid decision making moving forward, only properties under 13km may be included into the local Fire Protection Area when requested by the owner. The distance will be measured by our GIS department, from the middle of the road and from the middle of the driveway between the firehall and the property.
