Big Country Shrine Club #50

Dear Sir/Madam,

The Big Country Shrine Club is holding a Dinner Auction on April 1 2023 in 100 Mile House to support children throughout BC and the Yukon who utilize our Child Services Society (Patient Transportation) and the Shriners in the Community Fund.

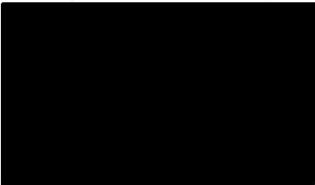

The costs of transportation, to and from our Shriners Hospitals, for the child and accompanying parent or caregiver from locations throughout BC are covered through our program. For those children in BC and the Yukon requiring specialized procedures, transportation, accommodation, and all associated medical treatment – including follow-up – are provided at Shriners Hospitals. Care is provided based on medical need, not a family's ability to pay, these services are life-changing for those we serve.

Shriners Hospitals specialize in neuromuscular, skeletal, and orthopedic conditions (ie: Scoliosis, Spina Bifida, Cerebral Palsy, Spinal Cord Injury, Osteogenesis Imperfecta {Brittle Bone Disease}, Cleft Lip and Palate, and Burn Injuries.)

Our cause is great and our focus is children, however, this comes at a cost. In order for us to continue providing this care, we are dependent on the generosity of businesses and individuals to contribute financial support or items that will attract people to our auction.

On behalf of families throughout the province, thank you! Your support in this endeavor will certainly be appreciated.

Noble Glen Clancy

Please note: Gizeh Shriners Child Services Society is a registered charitable organization #825299670RR0002 . Items and cash donated are eligible for tax receipts. Donations of services are not eligible for a tax receipt.

100 Mile House Shrine club dinner a group effort

Organizers say it feels good to know they are helping children and their families in need Apr. 16, 2023

Tickets for the Big Country Shrine Club's 2024 Prime Rib and King Crab Dinner Auction are almost sold out a year in advance.

As people were leaving the 2023 dinner on April 1 they were reserving their tables for 2024 as they walked out the door said Norma Clancy, one of the event organizers (alongside Cindy Brown, Sue Brown, Shirley Canning, Uta Hoffman and Elaine Cawley).

"It's very satisfying," she said, looking out at the crowd on the night of the event, which she described as a successful evening.

"All these people have donated and taken the time to come knowing that all the profit is going to go to helping transport children to the hospital," said Norma.

An online blog by Bloomerang, a creator of management software for non-profit organizations, defines volunteerism in part by saying "Volunteers help change the lives of those in their community as a social responsibility rather than receiving a financial reward."

Norma said the Shriners have some local children they are assisting at this time. "It's good to know that their parents aren't going to have to pay for transportation, food, meals; nothing from the time they leave home until they get home. It costs the family nothing."

While the role that the Shriners themselves play in the charity event is well known, many of them feel that it is the women working behind the scenes who are deserving of being acknowledged.

"All the stuff you saw set up was done by the ladies. And all the paperwork was done by the ladies. Without them, this wouldn't happen either," said Shriner's club president Glen Clancy. The comment was echoed by other Shrine members.

"My wife (Norma) said that the ladies do the brain work and us guys do the brawn," added Glen.

Norma is quick to downplay the ladies' level of contribution, saying that it takes away from all the work done by the men.

"The guys do all the phoning, they get all the gifts, all the donations, they sell all the tickets and then when they've done all that, the women take over the paperwork."

Part of this involves deciding what goes in the 50/50 baskets and what will go in the auction. Then they decide what will be silent and what will be auctioned off live, and create the bidding sheets.

She agreed that it is quite a job, but added "If the guys didn't get the stuff then we wouldn't have anything to set up."

There are many people who work in the background at events like this, she noted. Donna Barnett is the auctioneer for the night, but she is also deserving of recognition for the work she does beforehand.

"Not only is she our auctioneer but we held some meetings in her office and she helps us with a lot of the stuff. She was there Friday night helping set up and she was there Saturday afternoon too."

Glen said that on the night of the dinner, Norma is the one who runs the show once the dinner starts. "She's the lady right at the front door and keeping an eye on everybody and telling everybody what jobs they have to do."

He pointed out that some of the volunteers drive six or seven hours to come up from Vancouver to give the local club a hand, as the 100 Mile branch is so small. Other volunteers come down from the Williams Lake Shriners Club.

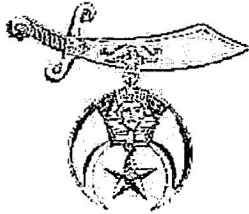

"If we didn't have that help, we couldn't do it."

Glen remembers one time in the early years of the dinner when everyone was still learning their roles.

"The ladies hadn't done it many times so they didn't really know what they were doing and my wife was in the hospital," he said. "She went to the doctor and he said 'You can go out for a couple of hours but then you've got to come back and get your shots again and then you can go back for a while and you've got to be back by a certain time.' So she was in and out of the hospital helping."

The satisfaction of seeing all the people who have come out and supported them is immense, said Norma. "Once the night of the auction comes, we're sighing with relief then," she laughed.
